VOL. 62

MONDAY, JANUARY 5, 1970

No. 1

Legislative Program Of Mayor White For 1970

I. TAX RELIEF FOR CITIES AND TOWNS

1. Local Consent to Tax-Exempt Status of Certain Property—This bill would prevent charitable organizations from removing property from the tax base without prior approval by the chief executive officer of the community in which the property is located.

2. Prohibition on Further Acquisition of Land by the Port Authority Without Local Consent—This bill requires the Port Authority to obtain the approval from the governing officials of any town or city before it may acquire property in that community.

3. Payment for Municipal Services by Port Authority—This bill requires the Port Authority to pay for municipal services rendered to it by any city or town. The Authority has heretofore been unwilling to pay for such services voluntarily, though long authorized by law to do so.

4. Tax on Business Lessees of the Port Authority—This bill would require business lessees of the Port Authority—such as the airport motel—to pay taxes on the value of the property they lease. This would compensate the city for substantial foregone tax revenues and eliminate the unfair competitive advantage enjoyed by tenants of the Port Authority.

5. Veterans' Benefits—The city is once again asking the state to increase its share from 50 percent to 100 percent of Veterans' Benefits costs. This is essentially a state program and should be paid for by the state.

6. County Costs—The Massachusetts system of courts and jails is organized primarily on a statewide basis and this bill would require it to be funded on the same basis. State support of county courts and jails would lift a doubly unfair burden from Boston's shoulders—the malapportionment of Suffolk County costs, and the extra burden of judicial expenses in the capital city.

7. State Aid for Hospital Construction—This bill would require the state to share in the cost of all hospital construction projects which are approved for assistance under the federal "Hill-Burton" grant-in-aid program. This is particularly important for hard-pressed municipal hospitals.

8. State Aid for Community Health Centers—This program assists communities to establish desperately needed health programs in the neighborhoods by providing assistance for the construction and staffing of community health centers.

9. State Aid for Nurse Training—This proposal recognizes the statewide interest in nurse training by providing for state reimbursement of the staffing costs of operating diploma schools of nursing.

10. Tuberculosis Treatment Costs—This bill asks the state to increase from 50 percent to 100 percent its share of tuberculosis treatment costs. Since the state already operates tuberculosis treatment facilities, it should support those operated by other agencies.

11. Fiscal Home Rule—This constitutional amendment would remove the restriction in the Home Rule Amendment on local fiscal autonomy and thereby empower cities and towns to impose new or additional taxes. If the state won't lift the excessive burden now placed on local property taxes, it should allow communities to devise their own solutions.

12. Revolving Fund for Federal Aid Programs—Many federal-aid programs provide funds on a reimbursement basis only, making it necessary for a community to expend money from its general fund to finance the program in one year, in anticipation of reimbursement, often in a later year. To avoid this skewing effect on the local tax rate, this bill would authorize a community to create a revolving fund by borrowing on a short-term basis to finance such programs.

II. GOVERNMENTAL REFORM

13. Metropolitan Council of Governments—This bill calls for the establishment of an Eastern Massachusetts Council of Governments representing 104 cities and towns, with an executive committee of eighteen members selected by the Council from nine equally populated districts. The Council would take over the functions and staff of the MAPC and, through its executive committee, would govern the MBTA, the MDC, the Port Authority, and the Metropolitan Air Pollution District.

14. Local Merit Systems—This is a resubmission of a bill authorizing the development of local civil service merit systems. The bill would give local communities the flexibility needed to deal with specialized personnel needs and conditions.

15. Tax Title Procedure—Collection of delinquent taxes by foreclosure is now a costly and lengthy procedure. Under this proposal, the "tax title" step would be eliminated and the city could proceed immediately to foreclosure in the Land Court thus shaving off as much as three years in the collection procedure which now can take up to six years.

16. Contracting Procedures—This bill relaxes bonding and advertisement requirements on contracts smaller than $5,000 but preserves the safeguards of bidding. The present $2,000 limit is archaic.

17. Strengthening Powers of Local Air Pollution Control Agencies—This bill would strengthen enforcement of the rules and regulations of local air pollution control agencies by expanding enforcement machinery, increasing fines for violations, and providing for injunctive relief.

A rate of $4 per inch of 12 lines (set solid) has been established for such advertisements as under the law must be printed in the City Record. Advertising and other copy must, except in emergencies, be in hand at the City Record office by noon, Wednesday of each week to insure its publication in the Monday issue.

18. Air Pollution Emergency Orders—This proposal would strengthen enforcement of orders issued during air pollution emergencies by the State Department of Public Health.

19. Borrowing for Reconstruction Work—This bill would make it clear that municipalities may borrow money to finance the reconstruction as well as original construction, of sewers, water mains, aqueducts, streets, and bridges.

III. TRANSPORTATION

20. Use of Highway Fund for Mass Transit—This proposal would amend Article 78 of the Amendments to the Constitution in order to permit the Highway Fund to be used for mass transit. This would help relieve the gross imbalance between highway and transit expenditures.

21. MBTA Express Service Deficit—A bill passed late in the 1969 legislative session placed a 30 percent minimum on Boston's share of the MBTA deficit for express service. If it were not for this capricious and unjust restriction, Boston's share would be about 25 percent. This bill seeks to repeal this discriminatory limitation.

22. Second Airport Study Commission—This bill creates a special study commission to develop a master plan of air transportation facility needs for the region—including a second airport—and empowered to veto all capital improvements to existing airports pending implementation of the master plan.

23. MBTA Capital Budget—This proposal gives the MBTA Advisory Board the same review power over the MBTA capital budget that it now possesses over the operating budget.

24. Hiring of Staff and Consultants by Advisory Board—This bill would authorize the MBTA Advisory Board to hire staff and consultants to assist it in performing its indispensable independent review functions.

IV. MISCELLANEOUS

25. State Aid for Purchasing School Buildings—The state now provides financial assistance for the construction and rehabilitation of schools. The impending fiscal crisis in parochial education may make it necessary for many cities and towns to purchase existing schools in the near future to accommodate vast increases in public school enrollment. This bill authorizes state aid for this purpose.

26. Arrest for Violation of Harmful Drug Laws—This bill allows police officers to arrest without warrant persons caught in the act of possessing "harmful drugs" (chiefly barbiturates and amphetamines). This would put enforcement of the "harmful drugs" law on the same footing as enforcement of the "narcotic drugs" law.

Return Registration Plates

Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin reminds all motorists who are not registering their motor vehicles for 1970 that their present registration plates must be returned forthwith after January 1 to the nearest Registry office or police department. Present plates must also be returned by manufacturers, dealers, repairmen, owner-repairmen, transporters, farmers, boat and motorcycle dealers, and any other registrants who have been issued new plates for the year 1970.

Registrar McLaughlin pointed out that plates are the property of the Commonwealth and that when a registration ends, the person in whose name the motor vehicle was registered has the responsibility to return the plates immediately.

"The operator, owner or person in charge is liable for operating or permitting a motor vehicle to be operated or allowing it to remain on a public way without being properly registered," the Registrar said. "Such a violation would result in the suspension of a person's license and court prosecution. "It is a very simple matter to comply with the return of registration plates not being used, and I urge immediate compliance after January 1, 1970, to avoid penalties."

NOTICE

Boston Retirement Board

To All Department Personnel Officers and Payroll Clerks.

Chapter 740 of the Acts of 1969, which, by its express terms (Section 5), is effective as of January 1, 1966, amends various provisions of those sections of Chapter 32 of the General Laws governing the State-Boston Retirement System so as to make employees under age sixty-five at the time of their appointment eligible for membership in the State-Boston Retirement System.

Hence, persons hereafter becoming employees or who have become employees since December 31, 1965, if under age sixty-five at the time of appointment, now become members of the State-Boston Retirement System if they meet all other requirements. This latter means, for example, that if the appointment was on a provisional, temporary or substitute basis, six months' continuous service must be completed before they become members, but then they become members as of the date of appointment if they make the requisite make-up payment.

Any person who became an employee prior to January 1, 1966, and who did not become a member of the Retirement System because he was over age 60 at the time, may become a member upon his application if he has not reached the maximum age for his group.

If a person is age sixty-five or over on the date of appointment, whether permanent, provisional, substitute or temporary, a notice must be sent to the Boston Retirement Board. They must terminate upon reaching age seventy in any case even though they are not members of the State-Boston Retirement System.

New Break-Proof Glass For School Department

All schools now in the planning stage will be equipped with more durable windows in an effort to reduce the staggering costs of glass breakage caused by vandalism it was announced on December 23 by Robert T. Kenney, Director of the Public Facilities Department.

The shift to break-proof and break-resistant window materials from standard window glass results from a study conducted by the department, Director Kenney said.

Glass breakage in school buildings costs the city an average of $280,000 a year, the Director noted. The new materials are generally of three types—heat tempered glass and acrylics, which are classified as break-resistant, and polycarbonates, which are classified as break-proof.

For a typical new school, assuming a total glazed area of 8,000 square feet, the cost for initial installation and for replacement during the first year would be as follows:

Glass: (35,200 square feet at a cost of 95 cents per square foot), $33,400.

Acrylic: (16,000 square feet at a cost of $2.10 per square foot), $33,500.

Polycarbonate: (8,000 square feet at a cost of $3.60 per square foot), $28,800.

Director Kenney said polycarbonates would be used where vandalism is a particular problem. As the preceding comparison shows, the higher cost of the break-proof and break-resistant material will be recovered quickly, and considerable economies will be achieved over a period of several years.

AMENDMENTS TO ORIGINAL AWARDS OF DAMAGES

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved the following:

That the amount of $50 is awarded to Anthony M. Santino for all damages sustained under the order of the Public Improvement Commission and Mayor of October 9, 1969, for the laying out and construction of Farrin street (formerly Farrington street), Hyde Park district, as a public highway, from Chesterfield street approximately 240 feet southwesterly.

That the amount of $10 is awarded to Herbert and Mabel D. Brokvist for all damages sustained under the order of the Public Improvement Commission and Mayor of October 9, 1969, for the laying out and construction of Potomac street, West Roxbury district, as a public highway, from Jennett avenue approximately 250 feet southwesterly.

NASA To Close

Following is the statement by Mayor Kevin White on the closing of the NASA installation in Cambridge:

I am very disappointed by the decision of the Nixon administration to close the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Electronics Research Facility in Cambridge. This facility not only provides 850 jobs for area residents but has been a magnet in attracting research and development firms to the Boston area. For some time, along with other big city mayors, I have insisted that the Federal government shift its priorities from defense and space programs and devote a greater part of our national budget to the cities. As Mayor of Boston I might understand the move to close the NASA facility if it were part of a broad program to reorient our nation's budgetary priorities to meet the vital needs of our cities, but the policies of the Nixon administration over the past 12 months have proven that this is not the case. Thus, Boston is losing out on both accounts.

Careers Exposition

On Friday and Saturday, January 9 and 10, an estimated 14,000 high school and college students will attend the fourth annual Careers Exposition in the Statler Hilton Hotel, Park square, Boston.

Representatives from over 100 Greater Boston businesses, government agencies and schools will be present in booths to explain career opportunities to the students. In addition, six career seminars will be held during the two day exposition, which will be open 1.00 P.M. to 7.00 P.M. Friday and 9.00 A.M. to 5.00 P.M. Saturday.

The exposition will enable students to acquaint themselves with a variety of career opportunities and company differences at one informal location. All students are invited free of charge and are reminded that the exposition is aimed strictly at assisting them in sorting out their minds' desires for the future.

BLOOD SYSTEM

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Invitation to bid on proposals for furnishing one ultra-micro blood system, Proposal 268, to the Boston City Hospital was advertised in the City Record. Subsequently, bids received were publicly opened and read in this office on November 21, 1969.

The catalogue number appearing on the bid proposal was incorrect. The hospital was contacted relative to this matter and has notified us the correct catalogue number for this particular item. The hospital also stated that the lowest bid is not acceptable. Copy of the memorandum is attached.

Authority is therefore requested to dispense with further advertising and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Fisher Scientific Company, the second lowest bidder and the only company who bid the correct catalogue number. Price will be as indicated on the accompanying tabulation.

Approximate total amount of contract will be $2,595, net, 30 days.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

X-RAY EQUIPMENT PARTS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of a requisition from the Boston City Hospital for X-ray equipment parts to be delivered, as requested, until March 31, 1970. These parts are for Picker X-ray machines presently installed in the hospital.

In my opinion, no advantage would be gained from public advertisement. Therefore, authority is requested to dispense with publicly advertising for bids and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Picker Corporation, X-Ray Division.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $20,000, net, 30 days.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

AUTOMATIC FILM PROCESSORS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of a requisition from the Boston City Hospital for parts for automatic film processors (X-Omat) as requested until March 31, 1970.

The present service contract, resulting from public advertisement, with Philip A. Hunt Chemical Corporation, at the hospital does not include parts.

In my opinion, no advantage would be gained from public advertisement. Therefore, authority is requested to dispense with publicly advertising for bids and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Philip A. Hunt Chemical Corporation.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $8,500, net, 30 days.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

EKG SYSTEM

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Invitation to bid on proposals for furnishing EKG and pressure recording system, Proposal 271, to the Boston City Hospital was advertised in the City Record. Subsequently, the only bid received was publicly opened and read in this office on December 1, 1969.

The bid submitted by the only bidder was irregular inasmuch as no bid was received at the Auditing Department. Since there was only one bidder, authority is requested to dispense with further advertising and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Hewlett Packard Company at the prices submitted on the public bid.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $9,845.13, net, 30 days.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

TRANSCRIBING EQUIPMENT

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of a requisition from the Mayor's Office for stenorette dictating-transcribing equipment and other required equipment. Dictronics, Inc., who has furnished this equipment previously, has submitted an informal written quotation.

Based on a previously publicly opened bid on which Dictronics, Inc., received an award, and since their equipment has proven most satisfactory, authority is requested to dispense with public advertisement and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Dietronics, Inc.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $2,960.41, less 2 percent discount, for payment within twenty days.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

ACCOUNTING MACHINE

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of a requisition from the Auditing Department for one Burroughs sensimatic accounting machine, Model F9501. Burroughs Corporation, the only manufacturer of this model machine, has submitted an informal written quotation. Inasmuch as the personnel of the Auditing Department are trained in the operation of this particular machine and since Burroughs Corporation is the only manufacturer, authority is requested to dispense with publicly advertising for prices and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Burroughs Corporation.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $5,478, net.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

MODEL CITY ADMINISTRATION
CONSULTING CONTRACT

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

We hereby request your approval to amend a consulting contract in an amount not to exceed $1,500, without advertising, with Edward R. Bryson, 31 Dayton street, Worcester, Mass. 01600.

It is requested that the contract be awarded, without advertising, because Edward R. Bryson, with his experience and expertise in the housing rehabilitation process, has shown himself capable of providing the Model City Administration with the evaluation and analysis needed. We wish to retain his expert abilities for a brief, additional time.

We would appreciate your approval of the award of this amendment without advertising.

Respectfully yours,

PAUL PARKS,
Administrator.

FIRST, INC.

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

We hereby request your approval to award a contract in an amount not to exceed $85,000, without advertising, to FIRST Inc. (For Individuals Recovering Sound Thinking), 79 Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury, for the purpose of providing drug rehabilitation services in Boston's Model Neighborhood.

FIRST, Inc., provides a unique opportunity in the Boston area for male drug addicts to receive a kind of thorough rehabilitation which will make them productive members of society again. This contract will allow FIRST to provide care and rehabilitation more intensively through the use of a half-way house.

We would appreciate your approval in this matter. Should there be any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Respectfully,

PAUL PARKS,
Administrator.

ARCHITECTURAL SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

We hereby request your approval to award a contract to obtain architectural services, in an amount not to exceed $2,450, without advertising, to Harvey Gantt, 50 Craigie street, Somerville, Mass.

It is requested that the contract be awarded, without advertising, because the contractor has been highly recommended as an architect capable of satisfactorily performing the necessary items, and the contractor has previously worked within and is familiar with the Model Neighborhood Area. Under the contract, the contractor will prepare preliminary design plans for the rehabilitation of the F.A.I.T. Building at 460 Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury, Mass. The consultant shall also submit a sketch plan for the interior and exterior of the structure and prepare a list of detailed specifications.

We would appreciate your approval of the award of this contract without advertising.

Yours truly,

PAUL PARKS,
Administrator.

Mayor White Delivers Annual Message

(The following address was delivered by Mayor Kevin H. White to the Boston City Council at City Hall on Monday, January 5, 1970):

This is my third annual message to the City Council.

This moment marks the midpoint of my term as Mayor, the beginning of a new City Council and most important of all, the start of a new decade—a decade that the City of Boston faces with mixed feelings of hope and anxiety for us all.

The 1960s were the decade of the American city. Never before in our history was so much attention paid to the plight of the cities. The past ten years have been years of painful self-examination in this country—they were years of moral upheaval, violent protest, dramatic change!

Boston, like other great metropolitan centers, has been caught up in these powerful forces. We have had our share of the drama of the 60s.

Yet, here we are, embarking on a new decade, and after thousands of ideas, millions of words and mountains of reports, the problems are still with us.

And it should surprise no one who is conscious and concerned. For the condition in which the American city finds itself today is the product of the cumulative forces of history, and it can only be changed, in any fundamental sense, by equally powerful countervailing forces.

In this past decade of the 60s, Boston has seen some of these changing forces at work. We are bringing about the realization of a commercial renaissance in downtown Boston, physical renewal of some of the older neighborhoods, and a reclamation of the city's greatest natural resource—its waterfront.

And in the past two years, without sacrificing physical renewal, we have made important strides to serve long-neglected human needs—to reach out into the neighborhoods to our people, and to make our urban environment more humane for those it serves.

We have made important innovations and created needed new programs to serve some of the more neglected needs—programs such as the Little City Halls, Model Cities, Summerthing, Youth Opportunity, Council on the Aging, Office of Human Rights, the Economic Development Commission, Air Pollution Commission, the Consumers Council, and the Rent Review Board.

We can take pride in these accomplishments. They are lasting and sustaining contributions that are the result of the combined efforts of the executive and the legislative branches of this city government.

And yet, balanced against this record that we both helped to shape, is the certainty that we have many formidable tasks ahead. I need not trot out the tattered catalogue of urban ills for you—you and I are all too familiar with them—the countless irritants of city living, the reasons for reaction, the frustrations, the fear, the despair among the people of our great city.

These problems have always been with us. Despite our good intentions, our dedicated efforts, our imaginative programs, they seem to defy solution.

But we must realize that none of these efforts are of sustaining value unless we deal successfully with those unglamorous day-to-day functions that are the essence of administering a city government—namely, the maintenance of order, improving the community and delivering services.

Those are the three basic functions that have too long been neglected in this and other cities. We have gotten away from them, and in no small measure, this has contributed to the problem of the American city.

I can report to you that in this past year we have taken these steps to improve the traditional operations of the city government.

For example: in the area of public safety, we have assigned more than 200 additional policemen to law enforcement duties since the completion of the police task force report.

In the area of community improvement, we have enacted the most modern building code in the nation.

In the area of public works, we have surfaced more miles of roads and lighted more streets than in any previous year.

In the area of education, we can honestly say we have embarked upon a long-awaited and long-overdue program of school construction and rehabilitation.

In the area of pollution control, not only did we establish an Air Pollution Control Commission, but we took the lead in Massachusetts to establish a city-wide regulation that will reduce the sulfur content in fuels burned in this city.

In the area of housing, we established the first rent control program in Boston since World War II, a program that will treat equitably both landlords and tenants.

I cite these accomplishments, not in self-serving terms, nor in any attempt to downgrade the problems we face, but to illustrate what I consider to be the principal function of this administration.

These are, in effect, our real priorities and will continue to be—that is, the substance of daily living in this city and the people who live in it. If it is less than glamorous—if it fails to capture headlines—it is nonetheless the most important task that we have to do.

As we enter the 1970s we must continue this attack on the fundamental problems, and I will be directing your attention in the coming year for your consideration to four critical areas.

A rate of $4 per inch of 12 lines (set solid) has been established for such advertisements as under the law must be printed in the City Record. Advertising and other copy must, except in emergencies, be in hand at the City Record office by noon, Wednesday of each week to insure its publication in the Monday issue.

First, the environment—and I don't mean sophisticated attacks on chemical pollution—but rather I mean cleaning our streets, our sidewalks, our parks, and our playgrounds.

Second, traffic and parking—we must take a positive stand on traffic regulation. We must provide sufficient parking spaces for residents and commuters alike.

Third, the tax base—through a concerted economic development program and an all-out campaign against further encroachment by tax-exempt institutions, we must stop the erosion of our tax base and expand our tax resources.

The fourth critical area is drug abuse. Drug abuse is increasing at an alarming rate in this city—the use of every type of dangerous drug is on the rise, particularly by young people, and in every neighborhood in the city.

By coordinating existing services and expanding the city's own efforts we must stem the tide of drug abuse in Boston before it undermines the very fabric of our communities.

These are some of the major problems we face in the coming year and I will be presenting programs designed to deal effectively with them. If you subscribe to these programs, then I ask for your full cooperation. If you do not, then I ask for your help in finding alternative solutions.

In previous years, my address would have ended here.

But this year we are faced with a situation that I would be remiss not to discuss with you. Simply stated, it is the recently announced cutback in the urban renewal funds allocated by the federal government to the City of Boston.

Whether this cutback is due to politics or to poor judgment is difficult to discern at this time. But what is apparent is that a deliberate policy decision has been made at the federal level which can seriously jeopardize Boston's renewal program and increase the already staggering burden on the Boston taxpayer.

For too long urban renewal in Boston has emphasized rebirth of the downtown area at the expense of the neighborhoods. For too many people urban renewal has meant office buildings and parking lots.

But in the past two years we have begun to redress this imbalance by concentrating our renewal efforts on the social needs of the city's neighborhoods.

But now, after changing the emphasis from skyscrapers to schools, from government buildings to playgrounds, we are suddenly told we cannot complete the projects already begun.

It is the neighborhoods, not the downtown, that will suffer if this announced policy is carried out. Commercial revival in Boston will not suffer, largely because we have already developed alternative means of sustaining the city's commercial renewal—namely, by issuing self-financing bonds on the credit of private developers.

Private investors can and have been found who are willing to furnish the capital needed to continue commercial renewal in Boston. But who is going to pay for new playgrounds? Who is going to pay for streets and sidewalks and street lighting? Who is going to pay for low-income housing?

We cannot respond to these desperate needs without public funds. And now Washington has announced that it is going to pull its money out. If we want to complete the neighborhood renewal that we began on the basis of federal help, we've got to do it ourselves.

The precise impact of this cutback is impossible to measure at this time. But it is clear that it would affect at least 5,000 units of badly needed low-income housing, seven schools, including the Campus High School, eight major recreation areas, as well as community centers and possibly a medical complex.

These projects are dependent on federal funds. Without them, they may never be completed.

This is not a crisis just for Charlestown, or the Fenway, or the South End or the South Cove—it is a crisis for the entire city. There is not a section of the city that will not suffer from the termination of federal urban renewal funds for Boston.

There is not a single section of the city that does not need to have pressure taken off its housing supply by the construction of new low-income housing. There is not a section of the city that does not need to have pressure taken off its public facilities by the construction of new schools.

And there is not a taxpayer in Boston who does not need the fiscal relief that only adequate federal funding can provide.

We faced the 1960s with high expectations. We now face the 1970s with an ominous cloud hanging over our future. I think it important to remark on the meaning of this crisis as it bears on our conduct as public officials.

It means, first, that we must put aside personalities and provincial politics and unite to demand from Washington a complete restoration of urban renewal funds.

And second, if we fail to restore these cuts, it means that we as public officials will have to make some extremely difficult political decisions, demanding wisdom and courage.

We will have to recognize that we cannot have everything we want—or even everything that we so badly need. We will have to reconsider what we want the future of this city to be and decide what sacrifices we are willing to make.

And so I conclude this, my third annual message to the City Council, not with optimistic prediction or self-congratulation, but with a warning and exhortation.

A warning that this city, which has come so far, whose hopes are so high and whose future is so promising, may face bleak and uncertain times as the decade opens—unless those of us in public service, indeed, all citizens of Boston, meet this challenge with the dignity, tenacity and courage that have distinguished the citizens of this city through its history.

Thank you!

Federal Home Improvement Legislation Amended

Mayor Kevin White extended his personal thanks to Speaker of the House John McCormack on January 6 for his contribution in making low-cost Federal Home Improvement Loans available to a larger number of homeowners in the Community Improvement Project areas of Dorchester and Jamaica Plain.

The Speaker helped relax eligibility requirements on 3 percent Federal Home Improvement Loans in the newly enacted 1969 Federal Housing Act.

"This legislation does not merely affect a small segment of Boston involved in Federal home-improvement programs, but rather it affects average workingmen throughout the entire country living in areas involved in Federal Housing programs created since July, 1968," Mayor White said.

Under the old act, income limitations prohibited a family of four whose combined income exceeded $9,600 from securing the low-interest loans. The new legislation simply insists that those families with the greatest need be considered first.

"Programs like the city administered CIP program will be aided most by this liberalization," Mayor White said.

"The CIP program was designed to save entire neighborhoods from deterioration by assisting families who have a reasonable income but simply cannot afford the high cost of home repair," Mayor White said. "Yet, it was this very group that became ineligible under the old Housing Act. Sixty percent of the residents in the CIP area were ineligible for loans.

"When I brought this to the attention of Speaker McCormack last year, he took up the fight to end this inequity," the Mayor said.

The CIP program provides Federal loans up to $10,000 and Federal grants up to $3,500 for residents whose homes do not meet housing standards. The loans may be used for heating, wiring, painting, plumbing, and other similar improvements.

The city is developing plans to expand the CIP to additional neighborhoods in the near future, according to Mayor White.

Price Reduction For Senior Citizens

Boston's Senior Citizens will be able to save up to 63 cents on dinners at area Hayes-Bickford restaurants under a plan instituted by Mayor Kevin H. White and his Council on Aging with the cooperation of the Hayes-Bickford chain.

Under the program, which began January 5, Senior Citizens may purchase full-course dinners for 80 cents at 12 area Hayes-Bickford restaurants. The meals would regularly cost approximately $1.40.

Fourteen different menus will run consecutively for two-week cycles. Dinners will be served between 11 A.M. and 8 P.M. daily, including Saturday and Sunday. The dinners must be purchased in their entirety with no substitutions. Senior citizens are asked to bring their Medicare or MBTA half-fare card as identification.

"I would like to thank the Hayes-Bickford chain for making this savings possible for Boston's Senior Citizens, and I hope that many of our Senior Citizens will take advantage of it," Mayor White said.

MBTA Shoppers' Special To Continue

The Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority announced on January 2 that the popular and successful weekday Shoppers' Special and the Saturday express bus experiments, initiated during the fall between Riverside Terminal and Downtown Boston, via the Massachusetts Turnpike, will continue through the Easter shopping season.

The Shoppers' Special express bus service, scheduled to have ended Friday, January 2, will be operated on a refined schedule, starting Monday, January 5.

There will be three morning trips, leaving Riverside for Chauncy and Summer streets at 10.30, 11, and 11.30 o'clock. To permit mothers to get back home in time for children returning from school, outbound buses will leave Chauncy and Summer streets at 1, 1.30, and 2 o'clock. The Shoppers' Special express bus service was inaugurated on November 17 and operates Mondays through Fridays.

The Saturday express bus service, inaugurated on December 13 to run through January 3, will continue, but on a revised schedule.

Under the new schedule, effective Saturday, January 10, the service will be operated from Riverside to Downtown Boston every half hour from 9 A.M. through 5.30 P.M.; and from Chauncy and Summer streets outbound every half hour from 9.25 A.M. through 5.55 P.M.

Ex-Mayor Hynes Dies

(Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White on the passing of former Mayor John B. Hynes):

The death of John B. Hynes diminishes every citizen of Boston. For more than a half century he faithfully served the people of this city and the Commonwealth with a concern for excellence matched by few men in public life.

A gentleman of integrity and exceptional administrative ability whose tenure in office sparked Boston's renaissance in the 1950s, he more than anyone else deserves to be called "Father of the New Boston." He was a forerunner of a new breed of mayors emerging in the nation who were primarily interested in solving the great urban crises rather than the pettiness of politics. Dedicated to the revitalization of Boston, he paved the way for the renewal of the Sixties not only with the beginnings of the West End Development and the Prudential Center, but more importantly by restoring stable government and a sound fiscal basis during both his administrations.

As a career city employee who rose through the ranks to the office of chief executive, he was probably more knowledgeable of assuming office than any of his predecessors. During his ten years as mayor he compiled a proud record of performance which set a standard for all of us in public life to emulate.

I shall miss John Hynes personally both as his successor and as a friend. My wife, Kathryn, and I join all Bostonians in expressing our sympathy to Mayor Hynes' family.

Human Rights Week

Mayor Kevin H. White has declared the week of January 12 through January 16, 1970, Human Rights Week, and January 15, 1970, Human Rights Day in Boston.

On Human Rights Day, January 15, the birthday of the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., the Mayor's Office of Human Rights will be open to the public from 10

A.M. until 4 P.M. and an official ceremony will be held at the third floor Plaza from 12 noon to 1 P.M. to commemorate the founding of the office. Speakers at the ceremony will be Mayor White, A. Reginald Eaves, Administrator, Mayor's Office of Human Rights, and Mr. Herman W. Hemingway, Past Administrator of the Mayor's Office of Human Rights and now Deputy Administrator of the Boston Housing Authority.

Mayor White stated that "We invite all the citizens of the city to come to Room 206 in New City Hall to view the 'Living Display of the Mayor's Office of Human Rights' which highlights the achievement of the office over the past year. Members of the staff will be present to meet you and explain the functions of the different work areas and answer questions you may have about the Mayor's Office of Human Rights."

Computer-Controlled System Demonstrated

The feasibility of a computer-controlled traffic signal system geared to around-the-clock requirements of Boston's routine, rush-hour, and emergency periods was demonstrated on January 7 at City Hall.

A laboratory model of the system used in the demonstration was developed under a research and development contract from the city. Traffic engineers and administrators from throughout the Northeast were invited to view and comment on the demonstration.

"The study was undertaken to determine the feasibility of a system that would utilize well-known traffic control principles but allow virtually unlimited flexibility," said William R. McGrath, Commissioner of Traffic and Parking. "Based on today's demonstration, I am convinced it is practical to adapt space age technology to the city's continuing program to keep traffic moving."

The solid-state demonstration unit synchronized and directed the actions of 32 traffic lights plus 24 walk—don't walk boxes and four pedestrian push buttons at two Government Center intersections. The duration and interval of each signal light change was prefed into the computer on the basis of data compiled by the Traffic and Parking Department. This provides a longer "green light" to anticipated heavy volume moving through the intersection from a particular direction.

Although the demonstration was limited to intersections formed by New Chardon, Cambridge, and Bowdoin streets and by Congress, Merrimac and New Chardon streets, the goal is an electronic system which can handle thousands of traffic lights covering all of the city's downtown light-controlled intersections.

The system would utilize a third generation digital computer, lightweight control boxes at street corners, connecting communications links, and programmed schedules.

The new system, when thoroughly developed and perfected, could change schedules throughout the day to keep traffic moving in all types of situations. Present equipment can be programmed for a maximum of three daily cycles.

The entire system would be controlled from a central location, permitting rapid response to emergency conditions. Changes would be made without adjustment to individual signals.

Following the demonstration, Commissioner McGrath indicated he looked forward to the next step in the program, which would consist of a field installation under real traffic conditions. "We hope to find means during the current year to install and operate several intersections under this system," he said. This could lead to expansion of the system throughout large areas of the city, the Commissioner added.

building. Fire Fighter John F. Scott of Engine Company 45, detailed to drive District 10 car, immediately entered the front door of the building and groped his way to a rear bedroom where he heard moaning. He found a woman wedged between a bed and a wall, and, with great difficulty, he carried her to the front door, and from there she was taken to the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in the police ambulance.

Fire Fighter Scott accomplished this rescue work before ventilation had been effected or hose lines brought into operation, and while the building was heavily charged with fire and smoke.

Because the rescue act was performed by Fire Fighter Scott under very difficult conditions, and without thought of his own safety, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend him highly, and his case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

Final Respects Paid To Former Mayor Hynes

Former Mayor John B. Hynes, 72, was eulogized at a Solemn Requiem Mass in St. Gregory's Church, Dorchester, Saturday, January 10, as a "humble, sincere man, dedicated to family and to those he served." Almost 1,300 people attended the services, paying a final tribute to this beloved man who died from a heart attack on January 6. He served the people of Boston as their Mayor from 1950 to 1960. His accomplishments were many, including the starting of the "new Boston" and the development of the Prudential Center. He served with the Army Air Corps in World War I (1920) and after his service, began 40 years of public work starting as a clerk in the Health Department. Later he moved to the Auditing Department, then to Mayor Curley's office as chief clerk. He won a law degree at Suffolk University in 1927, and until his death was treasurer and a life trustee of the university. After his terms as Mayor, Mr. Hynes became State Banking Commissioner. Mayor Kevin White proclaimed January 10 as an official day of mourning for Boston. Led by Mayor White and Governor Sargent, the Mass was attended by hundreds of city, state, federal officials, and people from all walks of life. Mr. Hynes leaves his wife, Marion H. (Barry) Hynes; three sons, John B. ("Jack") Jr., Richard W. of Hingham and Barry T. of Dorchester; two daughters, Mrs. Marie Gallagher of Milton, and Mrs. Nancie Downey of Cambridge; a brother, Joseph R. Hynes of West Roxbury; a sister, Mrs. Mary Tomlinson of Dorchester, and 11 grandchildren. Interment was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury. Requiescat in Pace.

The City Record reprints a poem composed in 1956 by our late beloved Mayor John B. Hynes.

BOSTON

Don't you love this city by the open sea,
This city that mothered the Home of the Free?
Don't you love this city with its wrinkled brow,
And its streets laid out by the wandering cow?

Don't you love this city with its spires and domes,
With its gilded crosses and its Godly homes?
Don't you love this city with its customs old,
And its wisdom to know the dross from the gold?

Don't you love this city and its Bunker Hill,
And its age-old shrines of glorious thrill?
Don't you love this city, the old and the new,
With its grip on the things that are lasting and true?

New Police Station

The start of construction of the new District 11 Police Station at Fields Corner, Dorchester, was announced on January 12 by Robert T. Kenney, Director of Public Facilities.

Scheduled to be completed in February, 1971, the station will include an adjacent 60-foot square neighborhood mini-park.

In announcing award of the construction contract in November to Michael Racioppi, Inc., of Boston, Mayor Kevin White said: "This station will be more than a law enforcement bastion and center for complaints. It will combine utility with beauty and recreation, thereby giving the city a multi-purpose use of a single site."

The station, located at 40 Gibson street, will accommodate 300 men and provide parking for 64 vehicles.

Don't you love this city when the shadows fall,
And the birds wing home to the Common mall?

Bursts from the sea where the codfish run?
Don't you love this city when the wind's in the east?
And the smell of the deep is the free man's feast?

Don't you love this city with its gales and snow,
With its summer warmth and its autumn glow?
Don't you love this city when its trees so bare,
Are laced in blossoms fragrant and fair?

Don't you love this city where knowledge waits,
For those who walk through its library gates?
Don't you love this city and the things we prize,
The preacher dauntless and the scholar wise?

Don't you love this city where art is long,
With its principles true and its faith so strong?
Don't you love this city where the fleeting years,
Have left a trail that heartens and cheers?

Don't you love this city where the color ban,
Has long since vanished like the school rattan?
Don't you love this city with its mingled strains,
Where men are equal and where harmony reigns?

Don't you love this city where roots go deep,
In the soil of the land where the martyrs sleep?
Don't you love this city born of struggle and strife,
Where the false is interred and truth given life?

Don't you love this city and its grand old name,
That swells the heart as we think of its fame?
Don't you love this city wherever you roam,
And who is not proud to call it home?

For Boston is Boston and forever she'll stand,
A tower of truth in a truth-loving land.
Forever she'll stand for all that is just,
'Til the world is no more and all is dust.

So love old Boston from her head to her toes,
Be one who will shout in tones firm and clear,
She's the most Gracious Damsel in the whole hemisphere.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

It is respectfully requested permission be granted to enter into a contract for professional services with the Northeast Traffic Bureau of 1033 Beacon street, Brookline, Mass. The contract shall supply development and testing of procedures for appraising the effectiveness of the city's parking meter revenue collection system and a report on the findings thereto. The contract shall be in the maximum amount of $4,500 and is to be completed not later than March 31, 1970.

It is requested further that the contract be awarded without sealed competitive bidding because bidding would not be in the interest of the city for these purposes.

Yours truly,

EDWARD T. SULLIVAN,
Director.

Purchasing Division CRANE HOIST PARTS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Invitation to bid on proposals for furnishing crane hoist parts, Proposal 267, to the Public Works Department was advertised in the City Record. Bids were to be publicly opened and read in this office on November 19, 1969, but none were received, and upon readvertisement there was no response.

At a later time, however, a bid was received from Dresser, Crane, Hoist & Tower Division, the manufacturer of these parts. Since this company is the manufacturer and the only company submitting a bid, authority is requested to dispense with any further advertising and award a contract, without advertisement, to Dresser, Crane, Hoist & Tower Division.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $16,029, net 10 days.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

PERISHABLE FOODS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

It is the practice of the City of Boston to purchase perishable foods and other edible commodities on the basis of bids submitted weekly or monthly because of the perishable nature of these goods and the fluctuation in their prices and the quantities required.

It is required by law that contracts be executed with various companies covering said purchases for one year beginning April 1, 1970. Because these purchasing procedures, which accrue considerable savings to the city, do not lend themselves to formal public advertising, authority is requested to award contracts, without public advertisement, to the companies listed for the period from April 1, 1970, to March 31, 1971, inclusive. The prices, however, are based on formal quotations from several suppliers.

The proposed contractors are listed below: Armour Food Service, Division of Armour & Co., 775 Columbus avenue, Roxbury. Bornstein & Pearl Provision Company, Inc., 196 Quincy street, Roxbury.

Boston Bonnie, Inc., Trilling Way.
Boston Frozen Foods, Inc., 450 E street, South Boston.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT BUILDINGS RAZED

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following houses have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

90 Richmond street, Ward 3; 92 Richmond street, Ward 3.

Accordingly, in conformity with provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1933, as amended, particularly section 116 (d) thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structure.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Duane. — $11,499.

Mystic. — $6,720.

Berardi. — $11,548.

Napoli. — $6,738.

Giant. — $11,890.

Mystic Building Wrecking Company, 224 Vale street, Chelsea, has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bids for the demolition of individual houses were not requested because it would be a practical, physical impossibility for several different wreckers to conduct efficient wrecking operations simultaneously in individual houses. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference, and each wrecker would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control by the operations of adjacent wreckers. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the lot, and that handling the houses as one unit results in lower administrative costs to the city than would result from handling the houses as separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, in a contract price $2,000 or over the statutory limitations upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety so requiring, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding, without advertising, as required in the city charter, of a contract in the sum of $6,720 to the Mystic Building Wrecking Company, 224 Vale street, Chelsea, Mass.

Very truly yours,

R. R. THUMA, JR.,
Building Commissioner.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HOSPITALS SERVICES OF A PHYSICIAN

DEAR SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of Health and Hospitals held on December 10, 1969, it was voted to execute a contract with Tufts University School of Medicine to provide the services of physician-otorhinolaryngology at the Boston City Hospital. Under the terms of this contract, the physician would serve under the Board of Health and Hospitals but without direct compensation from the City of Boston. The assignment of the physician would be with the approval of the Board and the physician would be compensated directly by the University. In this instance, the physician will be Dr. Charley Norris.

The decision of the Board to enter into such an arrangement was made after consideration of several factors, the most influential being to make it possible for Dr. Norris to take advantage of certain fringe benefits which would not otherwise be available if Dr. Norris were paid directly by the city. I refer particularly to participation by Dr. Norris in the Teacher Insurance and Annuity Association, a nationwide pension plan offering extremely generous benefits to its members who must be associated academically with and compensated directly by a university, college, or medical school. Benefits accruing through membership in this association might be changed. This would not be possible if Dr. Norris were compensated directly by the City of Boston and a member of the State-Boston Retirement System.

Therefore, because of the special and peculiar fitness of Dr. Norris for the service he is to perform, your approval is requested to award a contract without advertising to Boston University.

This contract will be for the period from July 1, 1969, to March 31, 1970, and the total cost to the city will not exceed $12,000 for the period of the contract.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.

FULL-TIME DIRECTOR

DEAR SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of Health and Hospitals held on December 10, 1969, it was voted to execute a contract with Tufts University School of Medicine to provide the services of a full-time director of Tufts Medical Service at Boston City Hospital.

Under the terms of the contract, the director would serve under the Board of Health and Hospitals but without direct compensation from the City of Boston. The assignment of the director by the university would be with the approval of the Board and the director would be compensated directly by the University. In this instance, the director would be Dr. Harold Jeghers.

The decision by the Board to enter into such an arrangement was made after consideration of several factors, the most influential being to make it possible for Dr. Jeghers to take advantage of certain fringe benefits which would not be otherwise available if Dr. Jeghers were paid directly by the city. I refer particularly to participation by Dr. Jeghers in the Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association, a nationwide pension plan offering extremely generous benefits to its members who must be associated academically with and compensated directly by a university, college, or medical school. Benefits accruing through membership in this association can be transferred if and when academic affiliation might be changed. This would not be possible if Dr. Jeghers were compensated directly by the City of Boston and a member of the State-Boston Retirement System.

Therefore, because of the special and peculiar fitness of Dr. Jeghers for the service he is to perform, your approval is respectfully requested to award a contract without advertising to Tufts University School of Medicine under which the city would pay monthly the sum of $1,458.33.

This contract will be for the period from June 1, 1969, to March 31, 1970, at a cost not to exceed $14,583.33.

Very truly yours,
ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.

DAILY BUS SERVICE

DEAR SIR:

Your authorization is respectfully requested to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to the Massachusetts Bay Transit Authority, with offices at 500 Arborway, Jamaica Plain, Mass., providing for the furnishing of daily bus service between the Boston City Hospital and Mattapan Chronic Disease Hospital commencing with April 1, 1969, and ending March 31, 1970, at a cost not to exceed $15,000.

This contract to transport employees formerly housed at the Boston City Hospital to the Mattapan Chronic Disease Hospital is caused by the demolition of the South Department complex.

On the basis of the foregoing, and as this company holds the franchise over the route, it is the opinion of the Board of Health and Hospitals that public advertising for performance of the subject service would be of no avail.

Very truly yours,
ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.

DEAR SIR:

Your authorization is respectfully requested to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to the Massachusetts Bay Transit Authority with offices at 500 Arborway, Jamaica Plain, providing for the furnishing of daily bus service from the rapid transit station at Fields Corner to Long Island Chronic Disease Hospital, commencing with April 1, 1969, and ending March 31, 1970, at a cost not to exceed $46,000.

As this company holds the franchise over the route, it is the opinion of the Board of Health and Hospitals that public advertising for performance of the subject bus service would be of no avail.

Very truly yours,
ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT CONSTRUCTION OF SCHOOLS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

In the name and on behalf of the Public Facilities Commission, and as authorized under a recent vote of that Commission, I respectfully request the authorization of your Honor to dispense with a public solicitation for proposals by invitation therefor published in the City Record, in entering into an agreement amending a contract executed between the City of Boston and Drummey-Rosane-Anderson, Inc., on June 15, 1966, providing for the preparation of the plans and specifications for and the supervision of the construction of a new elementary school in the Henry L. Higginson District so as to increase the sum allocated for expenditure under the contract for supplementary services from $24,000 to $30,069.14, representing an increase of not to exceed $6,069.14. Likewise, the maximum liability of the city under the terms of the contract would be raised in the same amount, namely, from $156,684 to $162,753.14.

As indicated in the original contract, the $24,000 figure represented the amount which the city then estimated it would be necessary to expend for supplementary services by the architect. In fact, however, the quantity of supplementary services which have actually been required, mostly in the category of services by a resident engineer, exceeded in volume our anticipated needs for the same.

Due to the professional nature of the subject services and since contracts can only be amended by the parties thereto or by their successors in interest, it is my view that no useful purpose would be served by pursuing the regular public advertising procedures in this instance.

Respectfully,
ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As authorized by the Public Facilities Commission, I respectfully request of your Honor, in the name and on behalf of that Commission, written permission to dispense with a public solicitation for proposals by advertisement published in the City Record, in awarding a contract to Robert Charles Associates, Inc., architects, 35 Saratoga street, East Boston, Mass., to prepare a feasibility study evaluating the possibility of including an elementary school within the scope of the Boston East Development site at a cost for said services of not to exceed $5,000; and to authorize the Director to execute such contract in the name and on behalf of the Commission, upon receipt of said written authority from the Mayor of Boston.

Robert Charles Associates, Inc., as the architectural firm designing the Boston East Development Project, is well equipped to prepare a study of this nature and their services will be of substantial assistance to this department in determining the location, needs and design requirements for an elementary school in this area.

The subject services are of a highly special and unique character and for this reason, it is felt that public solicitation for bids for these services would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully,
ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As authorized by, and in accordance with, a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on October 22, 1969, I hereby request written permission of your Honor to dispense with the public solicitation for proposals by advertisement published in the City Record and to award a contract to Educational Planning Associates, Inc., professional consultants in the field of education, 225 Franklin street, Boston, Mass., to prepare an educational program and design requirements and limitations, including but not limited to the Lyman-Alighieri and Cleveland Schools and Dorchester and Hyde Park

School Additions. Educational Planning Associates, Inc., will perform its services at a cost not to exceed $25,875, at per diem rates, as shall be set forth and classified in the contract.

The principal member and president of Educational Planning Associates, Inc., is accomplished in the area of education and has successfully carried out similar assignments for the Ford Foundation, Boston School Committee, and Educational Services, Inc.

The services to be performed by Educational Planning Associates, Inc., are of a professional and exceptionally special nature and it would be, therefore, in my judgment, to no avail for the City of Boston to publicly invite bids for the subject services.

Respectfully,
ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

CONSTRUCTION OF SOUTH DEPARTMENT AND OUTPATIENT DEPARTMENT

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I hereby request, in the name and on behalf of the Public Facilities Commission, written authorization from your Honor to dispense with a formal invitation for proposals by publicly inviting bids through the City Record in awarding a contract to Gerard R. Cugini, 232 Commercial street, Boston, Mass., to provide, during the period of November 1, 1969, to October 31, 1970, program design and planning services for the proposed construction of the Boston City Hospital South Department and Outpatient Department, at a cost not to exceed $12,000, the hourly rate being $10 per hour and including, in the aforesaid amount, not to exceed $2,000 for certain authorized miscellaneous expenses.

It is anticipated the foregoing program design and planning services will be of substantial assistance to this department in the preparation and review of architectural plans for the Boston City Hospital South Department and Outpatient Department and in the preparation of applications for federal and state financial assistance.

The subject services are of a highly special and unique character, and for these reasons it is felt that a public solicitation for bids for these services would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully,
ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

ELECTRICAL SERVICES, ETC.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I hereby request, in the name and on behalf of the Public Facilities Commission, written authorization from your Honor to dispense with a formal invitation for proposals by publicly inviting bids through the medium of the City Record in awarding a contract to Harold Eugene Proctor, a professional engineer, of 26 Central avenue, Danvers, Mass., to provide during the period from October 1, 1969, to September 30, 1970, electrical engineering consultation and services, when ordered, for construction projects at a fixed fee of $5,000, the hourly rate being $12.50 per hour, and including not to exceed $800 for certain out-of-pocket expenses.

It is anticipated that the foregoing services will be of substantial assistance to this department in the preparation and review of electrical plans and specifications. In the event that the actual volume of services required here should appear to exceed the contract's estimated quantity thereof, I would, with the prior assent of the Commission, forthwith request your Honor's permission to amend the contract as necessary at such time.

The subject services are of a highly special and unique character, and for these reasons it is felt that a public solicitation for bids for these services would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully,
ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT ENGINEERING SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On March 15, 1968, your Honor authorized the award of a contract for the carrying out of certain engineering services required in connection with the proposed construction of the various water, sewer and drainage systems related to the Washington Park Urban Renewal Area, Project No. Mass. R-24, to Fay, Spofford & Thorndike, Inc., 11 Beacon street, Boston, Mass. On February 21, 1969, your Honor authorized an amendment to the contract providing for additional supplementary services in the form of resident engineering and construction supervision.

The contract as amended provides that the engineer do the design and prepare contract plans and documents for the construction of water, sewer and drainage systems in Washington Park; also, that the engineer furnish supplementary services in connection therewith in the form of resident engineering construction supervision, field survey and preparation of "as built" record plans when city forces are not available to handle the work. The contract as amended provides that payments to the engineer for services rendered shall not exceed $126,400, of which $85,000 is to be for supplementary services.

An analysis has been made of survey, supervision and record plan services being furnished by the engineer, and of like services required to complete the water, sewer and drainage works in Washington Park as outlined in the above-mentioned engineering contract. The analysis shows that both the time and amount provided for such supplementary services will be insufficient and should be increased, respectively, by eight months and $40,000.

Because of the professional character and satisfactory performance already provided, and in order to insure continuous, uninterrupted engineering service to the Washington Park Urban Renewal Project, your Honor's authorization is respectfully requested to dispense with public advertising and to amend the contract as follows:

The maximum amount payable by the city for design and supplementary services to be increased to $166,400 of which $125,000 will be for supplementary services in the form of field survey, construction supervision and the preparation of "as built" record plans.

The time to complete all work described under the contract to be increased by eight months to two years and eight months after authorization by the commissioner.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH F. CASAZZA,
Commissioner of Public Works.

REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT MAINTENANCE AND INSPECTION SERVICE

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I respectfully request your written authority to award a contract to L. H. Jacobs, Inc., of 1764 Centre street, West Roxbury, Mass., for maintenance and inspection service in connection with the drainage pump and plumbing system at Quincy Market for the current year at a cost not to exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000). This work is necessary this year as it has been in the past because of the worn out drainage plumbing and pumping equipment now in use.

The Jacob firm is well experienced and has the capability of performing the work in an efficient manner.

In view of the nature of these services to be supplied, I believe that public advertising for proposals in the City Record would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

ANTHONY E. FORGIONE,
Assistant Commissioner,
Real Property Department.

TRAFFIC AND PARKING DEPARTMENT BITUMINOUS CONCRETE

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

It is respectfully requested that permission be granted to issue immediately an emergency contract, without public bidding, to Trimount Bituminous Products Company, in the amount of two thousand four hundred and eighty-five dollars ($2,485), for the placement of 900 linear feet of bituminous concrete berm at the Boston end of the Sumner-Callahan Tunnels. The purpose of this contract is to convert the present temporary channelization into something more durable for the coming winter months.

Due to the experimental nature of the original installation it was not possible to make the decision to place the bituminous concrete berm prior to this time, and, furthermore, it will not be practical to maintain the existing temporary installations during the winter months.

Quotations have been obtained from three companies, copies of which are attached. The proposed company offered the lowest quotation.

Yours truly,

WILLIAM R. MCGRATH,
Commissioner.

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, JANUARY 26, 1970

NO. 4

FIVE APPOINTED TO RENT REVIEW BOARD

Mayor Kevin White announced on January 15 the appointment of five Boston residents to the city's newly created Rent Review Board:

They are Thomas Sullivan, a past member of the Boston City Council; Joseph Corcoran, director of the Farragut Co-Operative Bank in South Boston; Leo McCusker of the Herald-Traveler's Production Department; Mrs. Muriel C. Kasdon, Back Bay Civic Leader; and Miss Lynn Moncreiff, who served on the city's Interim Rent Review Board. They will serve until January, 1971.

The group will meet early next week to choose a chairman and prepare a budget for submission to the Boston City Council.

The five-member board will have the authority to regulate rental increases under the rent control ordinance signed into law by Mayor White last November. By terms of the ordinance, one member must be a landlord and one a tenant.

The ordinance is the city's first attempt at rent control since World War II. Approximately 60,000 of the city's rental units are covered by the law. Excluded are luxury apartments, public housing, and one, two, and three family dwellings.

Mr. Sullivan, 45, a lifelong resident of Boston, was graduated from Boston University. Presently, assistant director of the United South End Settlements and a lecturer at Harvard University, he served on the Boston City Council from 1961 to 1963. Mr. Sullivan resides at 339 K street, South Boston, with his wife and three children.

Mr. Corcoran, 33, who will represent the landlord interests, was born in Boston and graduated from Boston College High School and Boston College. Director of the Farragut Co-Operative Bank, South Boston, he also serves as board member of the Dorchester YMCA and the Area Board of Boston State Hospital. Mr. Corcoran was past chairman of the Low Income Housing Committee of the Greater Boston Real Estate Board. Mr. Corcoran resides at 56 Elmer road, Dorchester, with his wife and five children.

Mr. McCusker, 40, of 2 Alcott street, Allston, has been employed by the Boston Herald-Traveler for 25 years. A former member of the Attorney General's Consumer Council, he is president of St. Anthony's Home and School, on the Board of Directors of the Allston-Brighton Citizens' Council; and a member of the Allston Civic Association, Allston-Brighton APAC, the Allston Knights of Columbus No. 555, and the American Newspaper Guild. He has served as a delegate to the Greater Boston Labor Council of the AFL-CIO and a delegate to the State AFL-CIO. Mr. McCusker is married and has six children.

Mrs. Kasdon, wife of Dr. S. Charles Kasdon, of 127 Bay State road, served as chairman of the Boston Chapter of ADA from 1966 to 1967; co-edited an original pamphlet on the Metropolitan Planning Council for the League of Women Voters; was past membership chairman of the Back Bay Association and directed the Mothers' March to preserve the Storrow-Esplanade Recreational Area in 1948. Dr. and Mrs. Kasdon have three children.

Miss Moncreiff, who will represent the tenants, was one of the early advocates of rent control with Allston-Brighton tenant groups and served on the city's Interim Rent Review Board. Director of Boston's Civic Center Clearinghouse, she also organized the ABCD volunteer bureau. A graduate of Lake Forest College, Illinois, she received her master's in Education from Harvard University. Miss Moncreiff resides at 70 Glenville avenue, Allston.

Watercolor Display

The Boston Watercolor Society, the second oldest in the United States, organized and established in 1885, is currently displaying watercolor specials by some of the foremost painters in that medium in the country. The presentation is located on the fifth floor, Exhibit Room, City Hall. It will be shown Monday through Friday, from 9 to 4, until February 6.

Major Improvements Scheduled for Parks Dept.

Boston Parks and Recreation Commissioner Joseph E. Curtis and Mayor Kevin White announced on January 15 a master plan for the Parks and Recreation Department for the 1970s—the most ambitious renovation in the city's history.

Commissioner Curtis outlined the phases of the plan—Action Plan 70—that have been approved and are ready for implementation. He said other phases are under study and will be announced in the near future.

The initial announcement covered the areas of basic policy, expanded programs, and personnel administration.

Personnel

1. Promotions will be made from within the department whenever possible. Staff members will be interviewed, evaluated and given the opportunity to involve themselves in advanced training.

2. Training programs of a comprehensive nature will start shortly for department personnel. Each employee will be placed in a yearly training cycle. A qualified staff member has been designated training officer and has received special instruction for the post. The goal is a highly trained, professional, efficient staff.

3. Direct contact will be made with all educational institutions in the Boston area in an attempt to recruit qualified trainees for Park

Department posts when qualified candidates are not available within the department. This is intended to upgrade the professionalism of the department.

Expanded Programs

1. The Commissioner said programs will be expanded in the areas already pioneered by the neighborhood basketball and hockey programs organized and directed by Director of Recreation Wayne Embry. Plans are now being prepared for programs in archery, lacrosse, soccer, girls' gymnastics, boxing, bicycling, and boating.

2. The advice of neighborhood recreation councils will be sought in order to develop special programs unique to the interest and needs of the individual neighborhoods.

3. There will be a cooperative program with Summerthing to bring the performing arts to the neighborhoods.

4. Self-supporting programs for teen-agers, post-teens, and young adults will be implemented in the neighborhoods. These will include ski clubs, exercise groups and social centers, utilizing volunteer personnel under the direction of professionals.

Commissioner Curtis said the effect of the expanded programs should be obvious within six months.

Basic Policy

1. The department will be decentralized as much as is administratively possible, with many decisions now made at the City Hall level to be made at the neighborhood level.

Personnel will be assigned to local units and will confront needs and problems on the spot.

2. Maximum utilization will be made of existing facilities and co-operation with nonmunicipal organizations will be sought. If a nonmunicipal organization is already a neighborhood focal point, the department will attempt to become involved in these programs on a cooperative basis.

Bernard M. Harris

Bernard M. "Barney" Harris, Composing Room foreman for the City of Boston, passed away on January 18. He started work for the city in 1937 and retired in 1967. A kindly, thoughtful, and cooperative man, he will be sadly missed by his legion of friends and fellow workers at the Printing Plant.

He was the beloved husband of Ruth (Blackstone); devoted father of Mrs. Alma Carroll of Pearl River, N.Y., Mrs. Sheilah Frank of Peabody, Sydney Harris of Detroit, Michigan; brother of Saul Harris of Watertown, Hilda Solomon of Philadelphia, loving grandfather of four grandchildren. Services were held at the Solomon Chapel, 420 Harvard street, Brookline, January 20.

Interment was in Chevra Kadusha Cemetery, Woburn. Memorial week at his late residence, 11 Vinal street, Brighton.

Police Examination February 28

The State Division of Civil Service has announced that the next entrance examination for the Police Service for all cities and towns, the M.D.C., M.B.T.A., and the Capital Police will be held on Saturday, February 28.

The final date for accepting applications by mail will be on February 18 at 5 P.M.

In Boston—apply to the Community Service Officer of any local police station for further information and applications, or at the main entrance of Bureau of Community Affairs at the Police Headquarters, 154 Berkeley street, Boston.

3. In areas where city facilities exist, the department will invite nonmunicipal agencies to use these facilities for their programs.

Commissioner Curtis said that additional plans to construct new playgrounds and rehabilitate existing ones—plus a program of improved maintenance—are still under consideration by the Mayor.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

January 16.

General Order No. 3

I. RETIREMENT

The following retirement, in accordance with section 5, chapter 32 of the General Laws, as amended, which will become effective at 8 A.M., Wednesday, January 21, 1970, is hereby announced:

Fire Fighter Paul J. Costello, Ladder Company 25.

Fire Fighter Costello was appointed to the department on October 16, 1940, and he leaves the department with the best wishes of his associates.

II. RESIGNATION

The following resignation which will become effective at 8 A.M., Monday, January 19, 1970, is hereby announced:

Fire Fighter on Probation Glenn J. Gilberg, Engine Company 32.

III. FIRE ALARM BOX INSTALLED

The following fire alarm box has been installed and connected into circuit No. 12, and company commanders will add this box to respective circuit cards:

14-4141, Charlestown Branch Library, 5 Green street.

IV. COMMENDATIONS

The Fire Commissioner hereby commends Fire Fighter Robert J. Corbo of Engine Company 33 for meritorious performance of his duty at Box 1566 at about 4.55 P.M. on January 1, 1970.

Upon arrival of Engine Company 33, it was found that there had been a manhole explosion opposite 239 St. Botolph street, and a large amount of black smoke was coming from the manhole. The members of Ladder Company 15 removed the manhole cover and the cover of an adjacent manhole which was emitting smoke.

About this time, there was a terrific explosion in the first manhole, and a Boston police officer, who was on duty nearby, was blown from his feet and into the adjacent manhole. Ladder Company 15 immediately placed a 24-foot extension ladder down the manhole, and Fire Fighter Corbo, without a moment's hesitation and with complete disregard for his own safety, climbed down the ladder to the bottom of the manhole and found the police officer lying there.

At this time, smoke and gases were building up and loud rumbling sounds were coming from the manhole, and it appeared that another explosion was about to occur. With great effort, Fire Fighter Corbo lifted and pushed the police officer to the street level where he was placed on a stretcher and taken to the City Hospital. Fire Fighter Corbo was also assisted to the street level in an exhausted condition.

Fire Fighter on Probation Richard P. Freda of Engine Company 25 is hereby commended for responding to and working at fire, Box 1221, three alarms, on January 10, 1970, while he was off duty.

Fire Fighter Francis J. Belmore of Engine Company 39 is hereby commended for responding to and working at fire, Box 731, three alarms, on January 8, 1970, while he was off duty.

V. DRILL SCHOOL

Fire Fighter on Probation Lawrence Holt of Engine Company 25 shall be added to the list of members attending Drill School, Class 2 (See S. O. 5, c. s.), which will start January 19, 1970.

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1970

NO. 5

Mayor Announces Huge School Building Program

Boston is embarking on the largest school building program in its history with plans calling for 12 new schools to be under construction by the end of this year, it was announced on January 21 by Mayor Kevin H. White.

Boston thus will be building in one year as many new schools as were built in the city during the last 12 years.

"More than half of the city's schools are at least 50 years old and a new high school has not been built in 36 years," the Mayor noted. "For this reason, it is imperative that we move ahead to provide a quality education for our children in surroundings that are conducive to learning with the most modern teaching aids available. A dreary classroom stifles initiative both on the part of the student and the teacher."

The new schools will be in Dorchester, Jamaica Plain, Charlestown, South Boston, West Roxbury, East Boston, and the Fenway.

Dr. Robert H. Anderson of the Harvard School of Education was retained by the Public Facilities Department to work with the Educational Planning Center of the School Department in designing the schools. Mr. Anderson's recommendations, which will provide teachers with many options of modern learning techniques, have been incorporated into plans for the schools.

Large schools will be divided into "interacting houses" so that the children can identify more easily with their school. Movable partitions will permit team teaching in large and small groups.

The new schools, air conditioned for year-round use, will be equipped for closed circuit television and contain unbreakable windows, ramps for the disabled, rugs to reduce maintenance costs and community meeting rooms.

The new schools—10 elementary, one middle, and one high school—will contain 10,050 seats and will cost $68.6 million, according to Mayor White. Seven of the schools qualify for 65 percent state aid under the racial imbalance law, representing a savings to the city of nearly $12 million over the usual 40 percent state reimbursement, he noted. The city's share will be approximately $29 million.

Among the new schools, the 10-story English High School in the Fenway will be the first high school constructed since the Jeremiah E. Burke was built in 1934.

The tax rate will not be affected by the construction of these 12 schools, Mayor White said. As the new school bonds are issued, other short term debts carried over from the previous administration will be retired. This will free previously committed funds to be used for school construction financing.

The balance of a $58 million bond issue authorized by the City Council in four steps since 1962 will be used to finance a portion of the current program. Mayor White also has pending before the Council a request for an additional $100 million in borrowing authorization, approximately $20 million of which would go toward the 12 new schools. The balance would be used to finance future school construction.

"In addition to the new construction, we are actively engaged in a program to purchase and renovate existing buildings for school use in an effort to provide a temporary solution to overcrowded conditions in some of our schools," Mayor White said.

One prototype elementary school is included in the current program and will be built using a system developed for the Public Facilities Department under a $50,000 grant from the Educational Facilities Laboratories of the Ford Foundation. The system, in effect, calls for building with a series of interchangeable components that can be used for all schools. The "systems" building approach is expected to save the city upwards of 25 percent of construction costs and cut construction time of schools from 18 months to 6 months when fully implemented, according to Mayor White.

"Once the prototypes are developed, suburban communities will be invited to join our building program to take advantage of the savings which they cannot achieve singly," the Mayor added.

Construction already is under way on two schools—the John Marshall in Dorchester and the Mary Curley Elementary School adjoining the Curley Junior High School in Jamaica Plain.

Scheduled to start construction during 1970 are the following: the Heath Street School and the Agassiz, both in Jamaica Plain; the Kent School in Charlestown; the Hart-Dean School in South Boston; the Georgetowne School in West Roxbury; English High School in the Fenway; the Olney Street School, an addition to the Cleveland Middle School and the Joseph E. Lee all in Dorchester; and the Lyman-Alighieri School in East Boston.

An additional 25 schools have been approved by the State Board of Education and will be built in future years as funds permit.

Mayor Signs Police Raise

Mayor Kevin White signed the police contract on January 22, making Boston's patrolmen the highest paid law enforcement officers in the Commonwealth.

The new 14-month contract provides patrolmen on the day shift with $10,300 and night duty officers with $11,080 in return for a fourth shift which will allow several hundred additional officers to patrol the streets during peak crime hours.

After signing the pact with Patrolmen's Association president Daniel Sweeney, the Mayor said that he hoped the new contract would serve to redress justifiable grievances voiced by patrolmen in recent years.

"A policeman serves with great personal risk to protect the well-being of his community. Over the past decade we have seen more and more responsibility delegated to law enforcement agencies without providing adequate compensation for their services," the Mayor said. "Today's contract signing seeks to correct that imbalance. Boston patrolmen, who daily put their lives on the line for this city, will no longer be considered second-class civil servants, but will receive the highest police wage in the Commonwealth — a long deserved recognition of their dedication in the performance of duty.

"With increased salary compensation the city is now able to compete with private industry in recruiting new talent to maintain its standards of excellence among police personnel. Changes in the administration of justice in recent years require that all officers be highly sophisticated in all aspects of law enforcement. Only young men prepared by formal education of at least a high school graduate level (or its equivalent) can expect to assume these responsibilities. My administration earnestly hopes that this new contract will serve as an incentive for many men to consider a police career."

Present at signing ceremonies with the Mayor and Daniel Sweeney were Police Commissioner Edward L. McNamara and Superintendent in Chief William Taylor.

Improved Water System

Construction of a new water transmission line through Dorchester to greatly improve pressure and to provide greater flexibility to the water system under emergency conditions was announced on January 22 by Mayor Kevin White.

Fifty percent of the project's $794,000 cost will be borne by the federal government's Department of Housing and Urban Development. Work is scheduled to begin this month and be completed by June.

The city's entire water system was evaluated by a computer and one of the major improvements recommended was replacement of the existing transmission line in Dorchester, explained Joseph F. Casazza, Public Works Commissioner.

CIP Slated for Spring

Mayor Kevin H. White announced on January 22 that the city will reconstruct more than 4 miles of streets and sidewalks and install 300 additional streetlights in the Community Improvement Program areas of Jamaica Plain and Dorchester.

The $994,000 project is the city's commitment to the CIP which also offers Federal aid to homeowners for repairs and improvements. Work will begin in the spring.

Further, new trees will be planted, traffic lights and controls installed and pedestrian walks constructed in the area, Mayor White said.

"The Community Improvement Program is designed to save entire neighborhoods from deterioration by assisting families who have a reasonable income but simply cannot afford the high cost of home repairs," Mayor White said. "The city does its part by committing funds for street beautification and safety."

Under the CIP, federal grants up to $3,500 and federal loans up to $14,500 are available to homeowners for heating, wiring, painting, plumbing and other similar improvements.

The Mayor said the city has plans to expand the program to other areas of the city in the near future.

The blanks, when prepared, should indicate not only the names of those persons receiving compensation on departmental payrolls as of February 3, 1970, but also those serving in an honorary position without salary. Under the column listed as "Designation" on the blank to be filled out, the title now listed under the Compensation and Classification Plan must be used.

The preparation of this list and summary is a matter of considerable importance and should command your personal attention. The addresses listed should be the current addresses as of February 1, 1970.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

January 23.

General Order No. 4

I. CHANGE IN DESIGNATION OF FIRE ALARM BOX

The designation of Fire Alarm Box 12-5496 has been changed to read as follows, and company commanders will make the change on assignment cards:

12-5496, Charles House, Convalescent Home, 10 Bellamy street.

II. CALL'S DATA

Company commanders shall add the following signal number to Call's running cards in this department:

Signal 517, National Art Company, 22-30 Bowdoin street. (Wet waterflow system protecting the entire premises.) Apparatus to respond: Engine 17, Ladder 7, District 7. Nearest box is 3332.

The following change shall be made on Call's running cards in this department:

Signal 339, was Boston Wharf Company, 34-36 Farnsworth street. Change to: Farnsworth Press, Inc., 34-36 Farnsworth street.

III. HIGH COMMENDATIONS

At 10.06 P.M., November 22, 1969, the department responded to Box 2157 (two alarms) for a fire in the dwelling house at 340 Warren street, Roxbury. The fire had involved the rear two rooms of a second-floor apartment and was extending to the third and fourth floors in the rear.

Fire Lieutenant William P. Doyle of Ladder Company 30 was directed to search and ventilate the upper floors of the building, and with other members of Ladder Company 30 he ascended the front stairs to the second floor. During the search he found a woman unconscious in a bed in a front room on the second floor. With great difficulty and under severe conditions of heavy smoke and intense heat, he carried the woman to the first floor landing where he passed her to another fire fighter. She was then removed in an ambulance to the Boston City Hospital.

Fire Lieutenant Doyle then returned to the upper floors where in company with other members of Ladder Company 30 he continued the search and rescue work.

Because Fire Lieutenant Doyle performed the rescue work without the benefit of an air mask, before ventilation had been accomplished, and at great risk to himself, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend him highly, and his case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

During the fire at Box 2157, at 10.06 P.M., on November 22, 1969 (two alarms), Fire Fighters Rodney Horton of Ladder Company 23 and Vincent Dimino of Ladder Company 30, while making a search of the premises, found an unconscious man in a second-floor bedroom. They carried the victim to the front stairway where he was removed to the Boston City Hospital.

The rescue work was performed while the building was involved in fire, intense heat, and heavy smoke, without the benefit of air masks, and before ventilation had been accomplished. The fire fighters performed this rescue work without regard for their own safety and under very trying conditions.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Fire Fighters Horton and Dimino, and their cases are referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

At 2.01 A.M., November 23, 1969, the department responded to an alarm from Box 2318 (two alarms) for a fire in the apartment building at 114 Bay State road used as a girls' dormitory.

Upon arrival of Engine Company 37, the members were directed to operate in the rear of the building. While running a hose line to a rear basement area, they heard loud screams from the upper floor windows but could not see anyone because of the heavy black smoke issuing from the building.

Fire Fighter Nino N. Tramontozzi of Engine Company 37 entered the basement and attempted to ascend the stairway to the upper floors; but, when he arrived at the first floor, he found the stairwell fully involved in fire. He retraced his steps to a rear window on the first floor, and during a break in the heavy smoke he saw two women—one sitting on the second-floor window, and one at a third-floor window. He cautioned them not to jump until a ladder was raised to reach them. When the ladder was raised to the third floor, Fire Fighter Tramontozzi climbed up to the third floor window to remove the woman. While he was going over the ladder, she jumped from the windowsill to the ladder and was sliding down the ladder—which Fire Fighter Tramontozzi was ascending—when he caught her and aided her to the ground with the assistance of Ladder Company 13.

It appears that Fire Fighter Tramontozzi by his quick action prevented the women from jumping from the second and third floor windows, and also prevented injury to the woman who jumped to the ladder from the third floor.

Because of the fact that the rescue work was performed under very difficult conditions and without regard for his own safety, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Fire Fighter Tramontozzi, and his case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

At 11.28 A.M., January 4, 1970, Ladder Company 15 responded to a still alarm on Harvard Bridge on order from the Fire Alarm Office.

Upon arrival they found that a man was lying on the ice about 40 feet below. He had evidently fallen from the bridge and onto thick ice, and in a state of shock he was crawling toward open water. Fire Lieutenant John A. Rose ordered a 50-foot ladder lowered to the ice. Then he and Fire Fighter Arthur L. Mulrey of Ladder Company 15 descended to the ice. They made their way across the ice towards open water, about 20 feet from the base of the ladder, reached the injured man and brought him to the foot of the ladder from whence he was raised to the bridge by the members of Ladder Company 15.

Because of the total disregard for their personal safety in crossing the thin ice over the fast moving river to effect the rescue, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Fire Lieutenant John A. Rose and Fire Fighter Arthur L. Mulrey, and their cases are referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

IV. MASSACHUSETTS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Bulletins and brochures describing spring semester courses offered for members of the fire service at the various surrounding community colleges are being distributed with this order. They are self explanatory.

It is requested that this literature be brought to the attention of all members of the company. Personnel interested in any of the above schools may contact the Training Division for additional information.

V. BLOOD TYPES

Commanding officers shall interview all members of their commands for the purpose of obtaining blood types. The name and group number of any member not having his blood type shall be forwarded to the office of the chief of department not later than February 2, 1970. These members will be notified when to appear at Boston City Hospital for typing.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT
Purchasing Division
SHELVING, RACKS, ETC.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On December 22, 1969, your Honor approved a letter of award, dated December 16, 1969, for a contract to Deluxe Systems, Inc., for furnishing shelving, racks, benches, lockers, etc., to the Public Facilities Department.

No award was made on Item 2 of this proposal. The lowest bidder meeting specifications and acceptable delivery date was Buckley Corporation at a price of $5,995, less 2 percent, time of payment. Subsequent to the bid opening, Buckley Corporation notified this office that an error had been made in computing the bid. The correct price should be $546.50 less than the original bid.

It is now requested that bids received on Item 2 of Proposal No. 272 be rejected and permission be granted to dispense with further advertising and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Buckley Corporation. The amount of the contract is not to exceed $5,348.50, less 2 percent discount, time of payment. All other terms and conditions will remain the same as in the original bid.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

MRS. KAVANAGH'S ENGLISH MUFFINS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

After publicly advertised bids had been received, your Honor on October 27, 1969, approved a letter to award a contract to Mrs. Kavanagh's English Muffins for furnishing bread to the Long Island Chronic Disease Hospital Division. The Auditor's copy of the original proposal was not signed, making it an irregular bid.

It is now requested that the original letter, dated October 21, 1969, be canceled, that all bids received on Proposal No. 245, opened on October 10, 1969, be rejected and that authority be granted to award a contract, without further advertising, to Mrs. Kavanagh's English Muffins for 33,000 pounds of white bread to the Long Island Chronic Disease Hospital Division. Delivery will be from November 1, 1969, to March 31, 1970. All terms and conditions will be the same as those of publicly advertised Proposal No. 245.

The total amount of the contract is not to exceed $5,610, less 2 percent discount, time of payment.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

STEEL CORD SWEEPER, ETC.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On November 28, 1969, your Honor approved a letter to award a contract to Hogan Truck Tire & Sales, Inc., for furnishing steel cord sweeper and truck tires to the Public Works Department.

The letter dated November 21, 1969, stated that the only bid received was publicly opened and read in this office on November 17, 1969. This statement was incorrect because the bids of this company, who was the only bidder, were received late in both the Auditing Department and the Purchasing Division.

Authority is therefore requested, at this time, to award a contract, without further advertising, to Hogan Truck Tire & Sales, Inc.

Total amount of contract is not to exceed $2,307.80, less 2 percent discount, time of payment.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

AUTOMOTIVE EQUIPMENT

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Invitation to bid on proposals for furnishing automotive equipment, Proposal 274, to the various city departments, for immediate delivery, was advertised in the City Record. Subsequently bids received were publicly opened and read in this office on December 12, 1969.

Authority is requested to award contracts to the lowest responsible bidders on Items 2 and 4 as indicated below. Approximate total amount of contracts will be:

Ambulance & Hearse Distributors, Inc., $15,990, net.

International Harvester Company, $3,092.11, net.

The only bidder, Chrysler Plymouth City, Inc., on Item 1 did not submit a check with their bid. The bid of the lower bidder, Porter Chevrolet, Inc., on Item 3 was received late in this office.

It is therefore requested that bids on these items be rejected and contracts be awarded, without advertising, at the same prices, terms and conditions as those of the publicly advertised bid, Proposal 274, to the following companies in the amounts not to exceed those indicated.

Porter Chevrolet, Inc., $5,561, net.

Chrysler Plymouth City, Inc., $4,768.20, 2 percent.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

GOVERNMENT CENTER COMMISSION REPORT OF DEFECTS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On behalf of the Government Center Commission, I respectfully request your written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record in awarding a contract for the examination of the exterior precast concrete surfaces of the City Hall and a report of all defects observed that would be considered as requiring immediate corrective action to Thompson & Lichtner Company, Inc., engineers, of 8 Alton place, Brookline, Mass., at a cost not to exceed $2,500, a cost which is fair and reasonable.

In view of the nature of the services to be rendered, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT M. MORGAN,
Chairman.

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT RECREATION BUILDINGS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

In a letter dated October 21, 1969, I requested your Honor's permission in the selection of the firm of Haldeman and Goransson Associates, Inc., as architects for the preparation of plans and specifications for and the supervision of construction of Recreation Buildings (with swimming pools) at four locations in the City of Boston at a combined total estimated construction cost of $1,200,000. Your Honor approved the letter on November 4, 1969.

After many meetings with school officials and the members of the Neighborhood Recreation Advisory Councils, it has been decided to enlarge the size of the swimming pool to be installed in the Recreation Buildings. Recent cost estimates show that each Recreation Building will cost $500,000. Therefore, I wish to amend my original letter to you, which was approved on November 4, 1969, to read as follows:

It is respectfully requested that your Honor approve my selection of the firm of Haldeman and Goransson Associates, Inc., 150 Causeway street, Boston, Mass., as architects for the preparation of plans and specifications for, and the supervision of the construction of Recreation Buildings (with swimming pools) at three locations in the City of Boston at a combined total estimated construction cost of $1,500,000.

As the project consists of three noncontiguous sites to be bid as a single construction contract and as there is an element of repetitive design in that the above-ground structure of all three Recreation Buildings (with swimming pools) will be similar, the fee has been computed as follows:

1. First Recreation Building, the Architects' Preliminary Basic Fee, taken from the "B" Rate of the American Institute of Architects Recommended Schedule of Minimum Rates, will be 8.10 percent of the estimated construction cost of $500,000.

2. The Architects' Preliminary Basic Fee for the remaining two Recreation Buildings (with swimming pools) will be 6.03 percent of the combined total estimated construction cost of $1,000,000.

The architects basic fee shall be determined as outlined above, and such fees shall be set forth in the contract, provided, nevertheless, that in no event will the maximum liability of the city under the terms of the proposed contract, as of the date of its execution—including presently estimated expenditures of $20,000 for Supplementary Services by the Architect—exceed in the aggregate the sum of $128,800.

Also requested is your Honor's authorization to dispense with public advertising in the City Record in the award of this contract. In my opinion, since the proposed contract is to be one for the performance of professional services, a public solicitation for bids, therefore, would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH E. CURTIS,
Commissioner.

URBAN BEAUTIFICATION PROGRAM

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

It is respectfully requested that your Honor approve my selection of the firm of Vollmer, Associates with local offices at Ten Kearney road, Needham Heights, Mass., as architects for the preparation of plans and specifications for the supervision and construction of improvements, landscaping and beautification to various park facilities in conformity with the department's Urban Beautification Program at a cost of $1,200,000.

Also requested is your Honor's authorization to dispense with public advertising in the City Record in the award of this contract. The architect's basic fee, taken from the "B" rate of the American Institute of Architects' 1951 recommended schedule of minimum rates, and based upon the average estimated cost of construction of the twenty-four sub-projects included in the Urban Beautification Program, shall be 8.5 percent of said estimated construction, landscape and beautification cost. In no event shall the maximum liability of the city under the terms of the proposed contract as of the date of its execution, including presently estimated expenditures of $45,500 for supplementary services by the architect, exceed in the aggregate the sum of $147,500.

As the proposed contract is to be one for the performance of professional services, a public solicitation for bids therefore would serve no useful purpose. The contract will be charged to Appropriation 1-11-41 (831), "Park Department Beautification and Improvement to Public Park Land."

For your further information, the cost of architect's fee and monies expended for supplementary services are eligible activities under the Federal Urban Beautification Program, and the city will receive grant assistance for such expenditures under Title IX of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1965, which act amends Title VII of the Housing Act of 1961.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH E. CURTIS,
Commissioner.

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT NEW SANITARY FACILITIES, ELMA LEWIS PLAYHOUSE

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on Friday, November 7, 1969, I hereby request written permission of your Honor to dispense with the public solicitation for proposals by advertisement published in the City Record and to award a contract to Vollmer Associates, Inc., architects, a Delaware corporation licensed to do business in Massachusetts, with a usual place of business at Ten Kearney road, Needham Heights, Mass., to prepare preliminary studies, basic drawings, outline specifications, working drawings, detailed specifications and construction cost estimates for use in the construction of new sanitary facilities for the Elma Lewis Playhouse in Franklin Park, at a cost for such services of not to exceed $2,500; and to authorize the Director to execute such contract, in the name and on behalf of the Commission upon receipt of said written authority from the Mayor. In this instance, the estimated cost of construction is $25,000 and we propose to pay the architect a negotiated rate of 10 percent.

Since these services are professional in character, public advertising would, in my opinion, be of no benefit to the City of Boston.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

BLUEPRINTS AND BLUELINE PRINTS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

In the name and on behalf of the Public Facilities Commission and as authorized by that Board, I respectfully request the authorization of your Honor to dispense with a public solicitation for proposals by advertisement printed in the City Record, in entering into an agreement amending a publicly advertised contract executed between the City of Boston and Boston Blueprint Company, Inc., 777 Boylston street, Boston, Mass., providing for making and delivering blueprints and blue-line prints, covering the period May 1, 1969, to March 31, 1970, so as to increase the estimated contract sum from $12,000 to $14,100, representing an increase of not to exceed $2,100. It is also our purpose to terminate the current contract as of December 31, 1969.

The present instance represents a situation wherein the actual blueprint and blue-line needs of this department, up to December 31, 1969, have simply exceeded its estimates for the entire contract period. However, the aforementioned firm was the original low bidder; it will carry out the required added services, up to December 31, 1969, at the contract unit prices therefor; and, in view of the continuing spiral of rising costs, it is not considered that advantage to the city would lie in public advertising for that relatively short interval.

For your Honor's further information, since the requirements for the aforementioned prints are considerable for the remaining "January 2, 1970, to March 31, 1970" portion of the contract period, new bids for these services, for this period are currently being publicly advertised in the City Record.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

XEROX PROCESS REPRODUCTIONS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As authorized by the Commission and for, and on its behalf, I request of your Honor, permission to dispense with publicly advertising for bids by invitation thereof printed in the City Record, in entering into an agreement amending a publicly advertised contract executed on September 9, 1969, between the City of Boston and Miller Blueprint Company, Inc., 46 Franklin street, Quincy, Mass., providing for making and delivering Xerox process reproductions during the period May 1, 1969, to March 31, 1970, so as to increase the estimated contract sum from $8,000 to $12,057, constituting an increase of not to exceed $4,057. It is likewise intended to terminate the existing contract as of December 31, 1969.

The situation here is one in which the proven Xerox process reproductions requirements of the Public Facilities Department up to December 31, 1969, exceed its estimates therefore during the whole eleven-month current contract period. However, the above-named contractor was the original low bidder; it will perform the desired services up to December 31, 1969, at the contract unit rates; and in view of the continued increase in labor and material costs, it is not believed that public advertising for the added services up to December 31, 1969, would be of avail to the City of Boston.

Additionally, and for the further information of your Honor; due to the fact that the requirements for the subject reproductions are substantial for the remaining "January 2, 1970, to March 31, 1970," segment of the present contract period, new bids for these services for that three-month interval are presently being publicly advertised in the City Record.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

ARCHITECTURAL SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission, I hereby respectfully request of your Honor, in the name and on behalf of the Commission, written authorization to dispense with a public solicitation for proposals in the Municipal Chronicle of the City of Boston and to award a contract to Earl R. Flansburgh and Associates, Inc., architect, of 119 Mt. Auburn street, Cambridge, Mass., to prepare preliminary studies, basic drawings, outline specifications, and construction cost estimates for use in the construction of an elementary school building in the Jamaica Plain District of the City of Boston, at a cost for such services of not to exceed $80,000 (including supplementary services costing not in excess of $3,000), and to authorize the Director to execute such contract in the name and on behalf of the Commission upon receipt of said written authority from the Mayor.

Subsequently, and following the completion and approval of the aforementioned architect's services, I intend, having first obtained the concurrence of the Public Facilities Commission, to request in its name and on its behalf, of the Mayor of Boston, written authorization to award a second contract for working drawings and detailed specifications for the school. The fee to be paid under the proposed second contract would be based upon the A. I. A. 1951 recommended schedule of minimum "B" rates and which fee would also be founded on the aforementioned construction cost estimates minus $77,000 of the sum to be paid under the first contract.

It is the opinion of the Commission, that since the services to be performed here are professional in nature, a public solicitation for proposals for the same would be of no avail to the City of Boston.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1970

No. 6

Mayor Outlines Expenditures In Budget Message

Mayor Kevin H. White submitted on January 30 a $175,774,816 proposed city budget for the fiscal year beginning January 1, 1970, and projected a tax rate of $157.90 based on the requested appropriation and the other costs of city government.

It marked the first time that a mayor has provided the City Council and the public with a complete picture of the city's financial condition, including revenue estimates and expenditures that are beyond the scope of the budget but which are significant in setting the tax rate. Less than half of all city expenditures are a part of the city budget.

"For the first time, the Council and the School Committee can act responsibly on the budget, knowing at all times where they stand in relation to the tax rate," the Mayor said.

"The tax rate is not something the Mayor pulls from a hat in mid-summer," he continued. "It is affected by every dollar spent from January through December, and responsibility must be shared by all who have a hand in planning and spending."

The proposed budget is $15,019,572 more than the 1969 appropriation of $160,775,244, a 9 percent increase. The estimated tax rate represents a $13.50 increase over last year. The Mayor emphasized the projected tax rate is not the official and final figure.

"The cost of living in the Boston area increased more than 6 percent from 1968 to 1969, and this sharp climb affects not only the consumer but government as well," the Mayor said. "Furthermore, we are bringing the pay scale of city employees into line with their counterparts in private industry under terms of a three-year contract signed last year."

Of the $15 million increase in the proposed spending outline, $3.8 million was built in, Mayor White said.

He cited as examples the increased cost of veterans' benefits and health insurance for city employees.

Civilian collective bargaining agreements will cost an additional $8.4 million over last year.

The budget also includes $9.4 million in increases necessary for the continuation of current programs and $1.5 million for new programs. A portion of the added costs is offset by items totaling $4.3 million that were included in the 1969 budget but which were dropped from the 1970 proposal.

Included in the new program requests is $950,000 for hospital improvements, including two new intensive care units, and a new obstetrical and gynecologic facility at City Hospital, inpatient and day care treatment for drug addicts at Mattapan Chronic Hospital, and four primary care outreach centers in various parts of the city. Also requested was $276,000 to launch a stepped-up towing program, which will be self-supporting in the future.

"Even though department heads were instructed to hold appropriation requests to essential items, we have cut nearly $23 million from departmental requests," Mayor White said.

Among the proposed increases for current programs are the following:

$1,259,000 for the city's 50 percent share of the health insurance plan for city employees.

$2,032,000 for the increased needs of Boston City Hospital beyond the cost of wage increases.

$500,000 for the increased cost of veterans' benefits.

$946,000 for an accelerated repair and maintenance program by the Public Facilities Department.

$759,000 for the Public Works Department for increased contractual costs and improved street maintenance.

$602,000 for the Parks and Recreation Department for improved recreation programs and playground maintenance.

Turning to increased expenditures not included in the city budget but which are reflected in the tax rate, Mayor White cited the county budget. The proposed county appropriation of $15,696,418 is $1,792,037 more than last year, he said.

"The city has very little control over the increase in the county budget since it is determined largely by special acts of the Legislature and actions of the judicial system," he noted.

Mayor Hosts Graduation of 42 Hospital Trainees

Mayor Kevin White hosted ceremonies on January 29 in the Exhibition Hall of the New City Hall making Boston the first city in the nation to graduate hospital trainees in a union-sponsored upgrading program.

The 42 trainees are the first to graduate from the Hospital Career Development Program, developed by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) under a $1.2 million grant from the U. S. Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare.

Budget Message . . .

Other increased expenditures not included in the city budget are:

Police collective bargaining agreement, $7.6 million.

School budget (estimated), $10.1 million.

Firemen's parity agreement, $800,000.

Pension costs, $1.5 million.

Reserve for uncollected taxes, $3.4 million.

With increased revenues estimated at $13.8 million, the Mayor said the budget analysts estimated that an additional $26.4 million would have to be raised through the property tax, representing an increase of $13.50 per $1,000 valuation.

The new graduates have moved from low-level jobs at Boston City, Long Island and Mattapan Hospitals and will be promoted to new positions after three to four months of intensive training during working hours with full pay. After graduation they will receive pay raises ranging from 8 to 15 percent.

The training agreement, sponsored by the Department of Health and Hospitals and the union, was signed by Mayor White in September. It provides $400,000 in federal funds to train 393 workers for 11 new positions in the Dietary, Housekeeping, Laboratory and Nursing Departments at the three hospitals.

The program has been hailed by Mayor White as a "major step forward in improving job opportunities for disadvantaged residents of Boston.

Hub and Pike Authority Agreements Resolved

Mayor Kevin H. White of the City of Boston and Chairman John T. Driscoll of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority signed agreements on January 29, to resolve and complete several unfinished items and claims resulting from the construction of the Boston Extension of the Turnpike in the City of Boston.

The agreements cover items such as police protection on the bridges over the Boston Extension, fire-fighting services, maintenance and repair of bridges over the Extension, traffic signal transfer, transfer of street lighting, etc.

Payments were made for properties taken from the city for the construction of the Boston Extension and for other outstanding claims relative to the Boston Extension as well as the Callahan Tunnel.

For the purpose of adjusting street lines, the Turnpike Authority acquired certain areas and deeded other areas to the city.

The agreements reached climax conferences and negotiations which have been carried on among the staff and consulting engineers for "Without this program and the expert training they will receive, these employees had little hope to advance to higher paying and more responsible positions," he added.

Some of the trainees in the program have worked up to 20 years in their hospitals without promotion.

AFSCME and the Department of Health and Hospitals selected the following jobs for training: Nursing Assistant; Senior Nursing Assistant; Hospital Dietary Worker; Senior Hospital Dietary Worker; Dietary Representative; Medical House Worker; Power Machine Operator; Laboratory Aides and Assistants and X-Ray Aides and Assistants.

The over-all goal of the Hospital Career Development Program is to train 1,000 hospital workers in Boston, Cleveland, Milwaukee, and the State of Maryland. Classes are under way in Cleveland and Maryland and are scheduled to begin next month in Milwaukee.

the Authority and the heads of the various city departments concerned since the start of initial design of the toll highway.

Council on Aging Starts "Ring-A-Friend" Program

A pilot program designed to maintain daily contact with Mattapan senior citizens, particularly those who live alone, was announced on February 2 by Mayor Kevin White.

Senior citizens who register for the services will receive daily telephone calls from senior aides working out of the Mattapan Little City Hall. The purpose of the calls is to check on the welfare of the senior citizens, providing assistance when necessary.

The Ring-A-Friend program has been organized by Mayor White's Council on Aging. If it is successful, the program will be extended to other areas of the city, Mayor White said.

"This program is designed to reassure senior citizens that if they need help, someone will be available to assist them," Mayor White said. "The Ring-A-Friend is based in the Little City Hall so that the staff will be available to respond to any problems which may develop," the Mayor said.

"Further, this gives seniors who are shut-ins a chance to speak to others of their own age. We hope these daily conversations will break up the tedium and loneliness of the day," Mayor White added.

The Ring-A-Friend is the second major program announced in recent weeks by the Mayor's Council on Aging. The other was the reduced cost menu plan for senior citizens in cooperation with the Hayes-Bickford restaurant chain. Mayor White said that another reduced-price program will be announced shortly.

Mattapan senior citizens may register by calling or writing either the Mattapan Little City Hall, Blue Hill avenue and Morton street, 296-2176, or the Mayor's Council on Aging at City Hall in Government Center, 722-4100, Ext. 125. The program will operate Monday through Friday from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. Senior citizens must specify the time of day they wish to receive the Ring-A-Friend call.

There is no charge for the service. The city has employed senior aides to conduct the program through a Labor Department grant to the National Council of Senior Citizens, Inc.

Hub Census Under Way

The annual Police listing took on a new look last week when the census of Boston residents was started by neighborhood residents rather than police officers.

The procedural change announced by Mayor White last December will permit approximately 30 patrolmen to be assigned to crime fighting duties.

The change of census taking from a police duty to a civilian function was among the recommendations of the Mayor's Police Task Force Report. Commenting on the elimination of police census duties Mayor White said "Policemen are professionally trained to fight and prevent crime. These duties were not only a waste of their time and training, but also shortchanged the public."

Any residents of Boston over 20 years of age and wishing to have their names verified for the voting list should give all pertinent information to listing officers who will be calling on homes in the next six weeks. Information required for the census includes the resident's name, occupation, date of birth, citizenship, and place of dwelling as of January 1, 1969.

If listing officers are unable to obtain this information by home contact, the information should be brought to the nearest police precinct station or Little City Hall to be relayed to the Listing Board.

Holiday Observances

Washington's Birthday, normally celebrated on February 22, will be observed on Monday, February 16, the first of three traditional holidays to be observed on Mondays in Massachusetts this year, the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce announced.

The Public Affairs Department of the Chamber reminds Massachusetts residents that the Sunday holiday law does not apply on February 16. Most commercial and industrial activity will be carried on as usual. Most non-federal public offices will be closed.

Other holidays to be observed on Mondays this year are Patriots' Day and Memorial Day. Usually celebrated on April 19, Patriots' Day will be observed the third Monday in April, the 20th. Memorial Day, normally May 30, will be observed the last Monday in May, the 25th.

Effective in 1971, the federal Monday holiday law, enacted in 1968, calls for Monday observance of five legal holidays: Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Labor Day, Columbus Day, and Veterans' Day. The federal law, however, will only apply to federal employees until such time as Massachusetts enacts laws to conform.

Legislation to bring about total holiday law conformity with the federal law has been introduced by the Chamber.

The Chamber has compiled a list of Massachusetts' holidays and holiday laws for 1970. For a free copy, write the Public Affairs Department, Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, 125 High street, Boston, 02110.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT AMENDMENT OF PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On May 9, 1969, the City of Boston entered into an unadvertised contract for architectural and engineering services with Universal Engineering Corporation of 100 Boylston street, Boston, Mass., providing for the preparation of plans and specifications for and the supervision of the construction of alterations and repairs to certain facilities at Boston City Hospital. Under the terms of the contract as executed, the engineer would be paid 10.6 percent of an estimated construction cost of $525,000, to result in a basic fee of $55,650, exclusive of up to $5,550 for supplementary services for an authorized maximum expenditure of $61,200. However, the precise A. I. A. 1951 "B" rate for this project was 10.57 percent and this correction will be reflected under the cumulative amendment herein to be proposed. In short, the present basic fee should be $55,429.50 and the maximum contract sum $61,042.50.

On July 7, 1969, your Honor authorized the execution of an amendment to the above contract which when acted upon, would have included another hospital building and increased the estimated construction cost from $525,000 to $540,000; the basic fee to be $1,532 instead of $1,480.50 and the supplementary services figure from $5,550 to $5,850.

As of this date, and since the foregoing authorization is to be acted upon as appropriate at this time, I now request your Honor's authorization to dispense with public advertising in the City Record and to accurately and cumulatively amend the said contract with Universal Engineering Corporation by adding the other building which, correctly referred to, is the Thorndike Building; by increasing the estimated construction cost from the initial $525,000 to $643,000, representing a new addition of $103,000, for an over-all increase of $118,000; and by increasing that sum which should have been recited as the authorized maximum expenditure under the original contract of $61,042.50 to $73,365, including the previously authorized $5,850 for supplementary services, representing an aggregate basic fee increase of $12,022.50 in excess of what should have been the contractor's basic fee when executed, namely, 10.57 percent of $525,000 or $55,429.50. Furthermore, the engineer's basic fee rate is to be reduced to 10.5 percent.

The intended increases in the engineering contract's scope and costs become necessary for the following reasons and at the stated estimated costs: the Thorndike Building is being added as necessary to provide within it a laboratory, office, and storage space for X-ray equipment, materials and film processes ($15,000); the doctors in the Maternity Building need an X-ray suite and dark room as well as more space, requiring relocation of kitchens and utility rooms and renewal of equipment and piping ($54,000); there is to be, in lieu of an animal laboratory, a Thoracic laboratory in the Mallory Building with equipment, fumehood, autoclave, case-work, cabinets, an air-conditioning system, surgical lighting, and special floor and wall coating ($23,000); the area and scope of the Dispensary Building (Pharmacy Area) is being increased 100 percent in order to provide needed office and manufacturing spaces, ($5,000); and the doctor currently in charge of the Dowling Building Emergency Floor, increased the work scope and area some 50 percent and it is now to include some 10 or 11 rooms to be renovated ($21,000).

SYSTEMATIZED BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

In accordance with a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on Tuesday, December 2, 1969, I hereby respectfully request of your Honor, in the name and on behalf of the Commission, written authorization to dispense with a public solicitation for proposals in the City Record and to award a contract to Environment Systems International, Inc., architects, a Massachusetts corporation with a usual place of business at 119 Mt. Auburn street, Cambridge, Mass., to conduct a detailed study of systematized building construction as a potential technique for constructing schools and other public facilities in the City of Boston; to develop a performance specification for such systematized construction; to coordinate and establish relations with manufacturers to produce such a system; and to supervise, monitor and evaluate the performance of such a system during the construction of not more than two (2) prototype schools at a total cost for such services of not to exceed $170,000 (including certain actually incurred personal expenses, including travel, telephone and cost of reproduction, not in excess of $20,000); and to authorize the Director to execute such contract, in the name and on behalf of the Commission upon receipt of said written authority from the Mayor.

Since the above described services are unique and professional in character, public

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT WEATHER FORECASTING

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Every year weather forecasts are becoming more important in our progress for snow and ice control. Having sufficient time to marshal our men and equipment before a storm strikes, is one of the most important factors in keeping streets open and traffic moving during the storm.

The problems created by hurricanes, floods, and other unusual weather conditions are better solved by accurate forecasting.

The U. S. Weather Bureau does not have the personnel or facilities to provide this type of forecasting, and for a number of years the city has depended on a private forecasting firm, Weather Services, Inc., who have given satisfactory service.

Accordingly, your permission is requested to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to Weather Services, Inc., of 131A Great road, Bedford, Mass., in the amount of $2,400 for this work.

It has been agreed that the services will be paid from January 1 to March 31, 1970, and October 1 to December 31, 1970, at the monthly rate of $300 and from April 1 to September 30, 1970, at the monthly rate of $100, and the total to be paid under this contract will not exceed $2,400.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH F. CASAZZA,
Commissioner of Public Works.

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1970

No. 7

Parks Department Expands Recreation Program

"Action 70" — a master plan providing new recreation opportunities for children, teen-agers, elderly, bicyclists, hikers, swimmers, and outdoorsmen — was announced on January 29 jointly by Mayor Kevin H. White and Parks Commissioner Joseph E. Curtis.

The plan, to be implemented over five to ten years, is the result of a four-month evaluation of the Parks and Recreation Department by Commissioner Curtis and his staff.

A new departmental policy during the 1970s will stress stronger contact with neighborhood groups and private organizations, reconstruction of prime playgrounds, rehabilitation of major parks, and a greatly expanded recreation program throughout Boston.

"Frederick L. Olmstead created in the nineteenth century a model network of beautiful parks in Boston, and Joseph Lee, as father of the playground movement, turned the nation's attention at the turn of the century to the need for provocative recreation programs for urban people," Mayor White said.

"But that was many decades ago, and since then Boston's playgrounds have fallen prey to misuse, neglect, and indifference. This master plan will conserve Boston's beautiful parks, encourage people to use them more fully, and provide wholesome recreation programs. Park land is a precious part of the urban environment, and must be preserved," the Mayor said.

Major features of the plan are:

The "re-creation" of one prime playground in each of 10 Boston neighborhoods, each with its own "personality" as determined by Local Advisory Committees, and each costing $100,000. Work will start in April and be finished early in 1971.

Revitalization of six major parks: the Public Gardens and Boston Common (including 1 mile of Commonwealth avenue); Franklin and Columbus Parks, and Arnold Arboretum, the Fens and Jamaica Pond.

Restructuring personnel policies to determine through interviews the capabilities of all employees, a process already under way; recruiting new careerists from local universities and assisting employees in taking advanced training.

Improve maintenance through a concentrated crackdown on vandalism (a series of meetings on vandalism bringing together many public and private agencies is under way within the department); and by providing "Flying Squads" of expert mechanics who will repair quickly any inoperable facilities.

Expanded recreational facilities for young girls, who are now largely neglected, conduct special events for young marrieds in their twenties and establish teen centers in cooperation with neighborhood groups.

A special route for bicyclists stretching 13 miles from City Hall Plaza, through the Common and Public Gardens, along Commonwealth avenue, through the Fens to Olmstead Park, then through a special link to the Arboretum and Franklin Park.

"The city has an obligation to provide all people with multiple outlets for their energies and hobbies if leisure time in the city is to be spent profitably and enjoyably," Mayor White declared. "Offering a diverse recreation schedule to accommodate all tastes is a fundamental ingredient in making the city a good place in which to live."

The "re-creation" of a prime playground in each neighborhood is a key to modernizing outdated facilities built mostly during the 1920s and 1930s, Mayor White said. Each playground will be stripped of its furniture and redesigned "from edge to edge" in keeping with local characteristics.

Thus, for example, Charlestown's primary playground could have a Revolutionary War setting in tune with Bunker Hill Monument. Toy military cannons could be fired harmlessly and benches of rough-hewn timber and statues of soldiers in colonial dress could emphasize the historical milieu.

Likewise, a prime playground near Franklin Park Zoo might feature a barnyard setting, with simulated animals for children to ride.

"The principal playground in each neighborhood should be a highly visible, heavily utilized part of the city's furniture and, therefore, should have its own 'personality' in keeping with its surroundings," said Mayor White. "By blending recreational facilities with local history or special customs the playgrounds will retain a vibrancy

Mayor Urges Modification of Senate Bill 1142

Mayor Kevin White on February 10 urged the Legislature's Transportation Committee to modify a request for a $300 million increase in the MBTA's bond limit so that the property owner is not saddled with the entire cost of the additional borrowing.

The Mayor said passage of Senate Bill 1142, in its present form, would result in a five-fold increase in that portion of the MBTA's debt service paid for by the cities and towns. "This means that Boston's share eventually could exceed $10 million," he explained.

Mayor White said he would continue to support the transit authority's improvement program, noting that a modern transportation system is essential to the well-being of the entire metropolitan area.

"Unfortunately, under the present financing arrangement, far too great a share of MBTA costs must be borne by the already overburdened property owners of the cities and towns in the MBTA district," the Mayor said.

He called on the Transportation Committee to amend the bill in a manner that will permit payment of all or most of the new indebtedness by some means other than the local property tax.

and spirit that will stimulate children while simultaneously amusing them.

"And adults never will tire of looking at these facilities and appreciating their message," the Mayor said.

The six major parks to be rehabilitated will combine their own natural beauty with the public's need to use them more frequently. Plans for each are being drawn up in conjunction with the BRA and include:

Boston Common: More play equipment for tots, improved lighting and pedestrian walks, new lavatories and designated play areas for children.

Franklin Park: A training center in which staff members from the Arnold Arboretum will train gardeners, horticulturists and tree surgeons to work for the city.

Olmstead Park: Designate paths for bicycle and horseback riding, and provide facilities for boating and picnicking.

Arnold Arboretum: Discourage random automobile traffic, improve lighting and policing to reduce vandalism and reroute roads and pathways to conform to current use.

Columbia Park: Work with the Boston Housing Authority to develop the area into a marina-type facility for the use of all city residents, with facilities for boating, swimming, and picnicking.

Fens: Dredge the Muddy River to expedite water flow and eliminate the stench of stagnant water in the area; expand the Rose Garden; and provide picnic groves, better footpaths and lighting.

Mayor White said the cost will be minimal over a five- to ten-year period, with an average yearly expenditure from all sources of $1,500,000. One third of the cost will be borne by federal and state funds, by fraternal and sporting groups, by conservation organizations and local colleges.

Old City Hall Renovation

Earlier this month the Boston Redevelopment Authority designated the Old City Hall Landmark Corporation as developer of the Old City Hall into a taxpaying and productive use. The corporation, made up of some of the city's most knowledgeable civic and business leaders, expects to complete the estimated $2 million renovation of Old City Hall by late 1970. Proposed reuse of the building includes space for a restaurant with outdoor dining in temperate weather, historical exhibit space devoted to Boston, and retail/commercial space for banking and brokerage facilities. Old City Hall promises to remain a key landmark and important component of Boston's Freedom Trail according to the corporation's plans.

DIRECTIVE NO. 4

U. S. SAVINGS BONDS AND FREEDOM SHARES

February 2, 1970.

To Department Heads and County Officials.

As of June 30, 1970, Freedom Shares will be discontinued as per notice received from the U. S. Savings Bond office.

Employees having payroll deductions at the present time for E Bond-Freedom Share combinations shall automatically have these allotments converted into straight E Bonds unless the Treasury Department, Bond Allotment Division, is instructed otherwise prior to the discontinuance date.

It is advisable to note that effective June 1, 1969, U. S. Savings Bonds pay 5 percent when held to maturity of 5 years and 10 months, thereby improving the return expected when most bonds were originally planned for purchase.

Kindly have your payroll clerk or clerks direct this notice to the attention of all employees who have been purchasing E Bond-Freedom Share combinations through payroll deductions.

Sincerely,

EDWARD T. SULLIVAN,
Director.

DIRECTIVE NO. 5
MANAGEMENT EMPLOYEE PLAN

February 2, 1970.

To All Department Heads.

For some time many of us have agreed on the need to develop special policies, conditions and pay practices for senior level managerial employees who by recent agreements are excluded from the bargaining units. Such a plan would enable us to make "city management" positions more attractive and effective for present incumbents and provide additional long-range incentives for people aspiring to management careers. The design of such a plan also should promote opportunities to increase professionalism among members of the management staff.

Since no one knows the problems, opportunities and aspirations of the management group any better than

Reduced Theater Rates For Senior Citizens

Senior citizens will be able to attend first-run movies for half price at the eight Sack Theaters in Boston beginning February 12, under a program sponsored by Mayor White's Council on Aging and the Sack Theater chain.

The program, announced jointly February 11, by Mayor White and Benjamin Sack, president of Sack Theaters, will run seven days a week from theater opening until 5 P.M. Senior citizens may use their MBTA, Golden Age or Medicare cards as identification at the box office.

"This is one of several reduced price programs the Council on Aging has undertaken on behalf of senior citizens," Mayor White said. "I am certain it will be as well received as the school hot lunch program and the reduced price dinners at the Hayes-Bickford chain."

The Sack chain includes the three Cheri Theaters at the Prudential Center, the Saxon and the Music Hall on Tremont street, the Gary on Stuart street, the Savoy on Washington street, and the new Pi Alley on upper Washington street.

the managers themselves, the first step in designing a management plan will be a series of interviews with a representative cross section of managers chosen at random (including some Department Heads and Board Members).

The results of the interviews will be summarized in a manner which will not identify individuals but which will reveal the judgments, concerns and long-range views common to the management group. Policies and programs in response to this information and with regard for the needs and resources of the city then will be developed.

To initiate this process we have retained the services of an experienced executive in the field of policy development, Mr. Paul J. Dorr. Mr. Dorr, who reports to me on this program, will work out of the Personnel Division of this department. Interviews will be conducted by Mr. Dorr at the individual's place of work after the appointment has been arranged through your office. Each interview will last from one to one and one-half hours. If necessary to contact Mr. Dorr, he may be reached through Mr. Frank McDonough, Ext. 613.

I know all will cooperate with Mr. Dorr in this assignment.

Sincerely,

EDWARD T. SULLIVAN,
Director.

Federal Reserve Bank Building

The Federal Reserve Bank announced recently that it would construct a $45 million building in close proximity to South Station area when the national economy had achieved some stability. The bank has concluded agreements on the purchase of a site approximating six acres which faces the South Station area and is bounded by Atlantic and Dorchester avenues and Summer and Congress streets.

While detailed plans for the new building have not been completed, the proposed structure will rise approximately 45 stories and an unusually large proportion of the total area will be public open space.

City Council

This is an administrative shift and not a patrol shift, and will be utilized for some Headquarters units and certain district personnel whose duties can best be accomplished during these hours.

Tactical Patrol Force: Night Shift: 6.30 P.M. to 2 A.M.

Canine Unit: Day Shift: 11 A.M. to 6 P.M. Night Shifts: 6 P.M. to 12 midnight (alternating) 12 midnight to 6 A.M.

Traffic Division: Day Shift: 8 A.M. to 4 P.M.; 10 A.M. to 6 P.M. Night Shift: 4 P.M. to 12 midnight.

The day shifts in the Traffic Division for those officers performing street traffic or motorcycle patrol duty shall be alternated on a monthly basis or on a more frequent basis as mutually agreed upon with representatives of the BPPA.

All day shifts shall include a half-hour unpaid lunch period.

All roll calls will be brief but informative and will take place at the beginning of each scheduled tour of duty. Effective January 28, 1970, the mid-day roll calls will be discontinued.

All existing day-off or squad schedules presently in effect shall be continued and effective January 28, 1970. All night officers presently working a six-squad, day-off schedule shall be placed on a seven-squad, day-off schedule.

OVERTIME SERVICE

If an officer is required to work beyond his scheduled tour of duty, the first 15 minutes of such service will not be considered as paid overtime. This provision will not be utilized, however, unless it is required in the performance of a necessary police service.

If an officer works more than 15 minutes of overtime service but 30 minutes or less of such service, he shall be compensated for one-half hour of overtime service.

If an officer works more than 30 minutes of overtime service, such service shall be rounded off and paid for to the next quarter hour.

District and unit commanders will be held strictly accountable for the proper computation, recording and reporting of all overtime service.

No officer shall be shifted from one platoon to another or from one work shift or tour of duty to another except for a permanent change of assignment for a period of 14 days or more unless it is for the purpose of in-service training or for leaving the city to bring back prisoners to this jurisdiction.

An officer who is not scheduled to work on a holiday but who is called in to work on that holiday shall receive double time for each hour of such overtime service in addition to the holiday pay to which he is entitled.

An officer who is called in for overtime service during his vacation shall receive, in addition to his overtime compensation at time and one-half, a compensatory day-off for each day of vacation that he performs such overtime service.

NIGHT SHIFT DIFFERENTIAL

Effective January 28, 1970, an officer who is regularly scheduled to work on a night tour of duty, which is any work shift which begins at or after 4 P.M. and prior to 8 A.M., shall receive in addition to his regular weekly salary, a night shift differential of $15 per week. A night shift differential shall not be included in computing overtime pay but shall be included in determining holiday pay, vacation pay and pay for in-service training. The Retirement Board has indicated that a night-shift differential will be included in determining a future retirement allowance.

Commanding officers of all districts and units will forward through channels to the Police Commissioner a special report requesting authorization in every case in which an officer is permanently reassigned from a day shift to a night shift or from a night shift to a day shift. This report will be submitted at least one week in advance of any such reassignment and any such change in work shifts will be made effective as of a Wednesday to coincide with the existing work week for payroll purposes. A copy of this approved authorization will be forwarded to the Payroll Section, Personnel and Training Division, for necessary payroll adjustment.

A special report will be prepared by every commanding officer giving the name of every officer under his command who is regularly scheduled to perform night duty and entitled to a night shift differential on and after Wednesday, January 28, 1970. This report will be submitted through channels to the Police Commissioner not later than the morning mail, Friday, January 30, 1970, and a copy forwarded to the Payroll Section, Personnel and Training Division, fifth floor, Police Headquarters.

THE BUILDING COMMISSIONER INVITES BIDS FOR BOARDING AND SECURING PROPERTY AT 886 EAST SECOND STREET, WARD 6, SOUTH BOSTON.

All window and door openings are to be secured against trespass and the elements. Remove all window sash, damaged or otherwise, and store on the inside by the openings. Remove all plywood, etc., from the outside casings. Remove all obstructions from the inside casings, sills, and thresholds, such as door barricades, nails, rods, hooks, shades, etc., to allow for solid bearing of the barricade. On the inside of these door and window openings securely attach with screw nails a single piece of 1/2-inch thick standard grade plywood with exterior glue that will cover the casings and rest on the windowsills or thresholds. Where the window openings have no inside casings or sills, the barricades will be secured to a built-up frame. Install a 2-inch x 4-inch brace on a 45-degree angle from the underside of a horizontal 2-inch x 4-inch cleat securely attached across the center of the barricade to a 2-foot long 2-inch x 4-inch anchor securely spiked to the floor or braced to the ceiling joists where bracing to the floor may be impractical. Remove from the premises all debris and rubbish including mattresses, bedding, etc., but not furniture. After the district inspector has inspected and approved all the inside work, the door opening to be used for exit will be barricaded from the outside with standard grade plywood with exterior glue at least 1/2-inch thick, fit tightly, and completely fill the openings in all directions, and be completely covered with 20-gauge cold-rolled sheet metal and securely attached with screw nails. All barricades and the sheet metal will be covered on the outside with at least one coat of high quality oil base green paint to match exterior siding.

All work will be left in a weathertight condition. Bidders will view the site and verify all measurements prior to bidding. Work will start and continue to completion without undue delay and be carried on in a workmanlike manner by mechanics well versed in their trades and of the highest standards. Contractors will supply all tools, equipment, and materials to complete this project. Contractors will remove all surplus materials upon completion of work.

Bids are returnable on February 24, 1970.

Your attention is called to the following conditions applicable to this project:

1. The contractor must arrange to start work immediately upon the awarding of the contract and to complete all work within three weeks from the contract date.

5. Bids will be opened publicly in the office of the Building Commissioner, 807 City Hall, Boston, at 11 A.M. on the date specified in item No. 2. Telephone bids will not be accepted.
6. The Building Commissioner reserves the right to reject any or all estimates and to solicit new estimates as the interests of the City of Boston may dictate.
7. Work must be done by the person or firm with whom the contract is made; subletting is not permitted.

The bidder shall submit 8-inch x 10-inch photographs of this structure, one photograph showing the posted notice on the building or structure, at least one showing the front of the structure, at least one showing the rear of the structure, and such other elevations or special conditions as the Building Commissioner may direct. When the structure is demolished, at least one 8-inch x 10-inch photograph of the graded site showing the sidewalk, curb, walls, and fences on the site shall be furnished. Said photograph shall be taken by a photographer designated by the Building Commissioner, and the cost thereof shall be borne by the bidder. The cost is not to exceed $3 per photograph. Said photographs shall become the property of the City of Boston and will not be returned. Model City Higher Education Program Initiated Boston's Model City Higher Education Program opened for its first 125 students on February 2. The students' ages range from 24 to 62.

Some 17 colleges and universities in the Greater Boston area have worked with the Administration for over a year to set up the program, which is designed to help adults in the Model Neighborhood obtain a college education.

"It became apparent in a series of community meetings last year that college training and degrees are essential for many careers and self-development of members of the Model Neighborhood. Consequently, we made higher education one of the priorities of Boston's Model City Program," Administrator Paul Parks said.

The consortium represents the first coordinated attempt by Boston institutions to provide a higher education program so that inner-city residents can start and complete their college education. It was set up with the strong endorsement of Mayor Kevin White and the Model Neighborhood Board.

"Not only will this program provide access for adult residents of the Model Neighborhood to degree-granting programs," Administrator Parks said, "but it will also provide a way by which colleges and universities can adapt their programs and approaches to city residents and urban problems."

Courses carrying regular college credits and counting toward a degree will be offered in the program, which will be housed initially in the first floor of the Kenmore Building at Dudley Station. The program's own building, the FAIT Building in Grove Hall, is now being renovated and is scheduled to be ready in March.

When a student completes his courses at the Higher Education Program, he will then be ready to move into the university setting to work in his major field of study.

Once in college, the student will continue to receive tutorial and counseling services from the Higher Education Program until he graduates.

The first students came from all six areas of the Model Neighborhood and were recruited this fall by the staff of the Model City Administration and the Model Neighborhood Board. No entrance examinations or even a high school diploma were required.

The courses are scheduled from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. to give the students as much flexibility as possible in planning their available time.

The curriculum has been developed jointly by faculty from the participating institutions and staff members of the Model City Administration. It will cover the areas of mathematics communication skills, science, social science, and the arts.

Special attention was given to the strengths and needs of the students in developing the curriculum. A trial session was conducted with several students before the opening to test the relevancy of the courses.

The participating universities are: Boston College, Boston University, Brandeis, Emerson, Emmanuel, Harvard, Jackson, MIT, New England Conservatory of Music, Northeastern, Simmons, State College of Boston, Suffolk, Tufts, University of Massachusetts at Boston, Wellesley, and Wheelock.

The universities will supply faculty to assist staff of the Model City Administration in teaching the courses.

New English High Design Approved

The Public Facilities Commission has approved the design for the new ten-story English High School on Avenue Louis Pasteur in the Fenway.

The two-phase project will go out to bid this spring, with construction scheduled to begin in June, according to Robert T. Kenney, Director of Public Facilities.

Phase one includes the construction of a ten-story academic tower and an adjoining gymnasium complex on land alongside the present school. Phase two calls for construction of an auditorium and staff parking garage underneath a street level plaza.

Tax Filing Aid for Hub Residents

Federal and state representatives at four Boston Little City Halls will assist residents in filing personal income tax returns beginning February 26, Mayor Kevin White announced on February 16.

The federal, state, and city effort was coordinated by Mayor White, who offered the Little City Hall locations, William E. Williams, District Director of the Internal Revenue Service, and Cleo Jaillet, State Tax Commissioner.

Assistance in filing federal forms will be available at the following locations from 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. on February 26 and each Thursday through April 9:

ROSLINDALE, Little City Hall, Municipal Building, Cummins Highway and Washington street.

SOUTH END, Little City Hall, Williams Building, Shawmut avenue and West Brookline street.

ROXBURY, Little City Hall, 29 Roxbury street.

DORCHESTER, Little City Hall substation, Old Dorchester Library, 1 Arcadia street.

State representatives will be available from 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. Thursday, February 26, at the Dorchester and Roslindale locations, and on March 5 in Roxbury and the South End.

Mayor Urges Homeowners' Snow Removal Cooperation

(Following is a statement of Mayor Kevin White):

Icy sidewalk conditions due to the weekend storm have brought many complaints to City Hall. I want to remind Boston residents that they have a legal obligation to clear their sidewalks of snow and ice after a snowstorm. According to a city ordinance dating back to 1785, homeowners are required to either clear or sand their sidewalks within three daylight hours after snow stops falling.

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, MARCH 2, 1970

NO. 9

Mayor Asks Service Fee on Tax-Exempt Institutes

Mayor Kevin White proposed on February 19 that a service charge, which would raise an estimated $12 million—more than $7 on the tax rate—be levied against private tax-exempt institutions to reimburse the city for the cost of municipal services provided to them.

As the second part of a two-pronged attack against tax-free institutions, the Mayor said he would seek changes in the city's zoning code in order to control the expansion of tax-exempt colleges and universities.

"Exactly half of the property in Boston, by valuation, is tax-exempt and the figure is rising at an alarming rate," Mayor White said. "Tax-free property has increased 48 percent during the past five years, while the valuation of taxable property has risen only 7 percent."

Private elementary and secondary schools and churches would be excluded under the service charge proposal, which would require the approval of the Legislature.

Under the proposed zoning change, which the city has the power to enact, dormitory and educational uses of property would be made "conditional," requiring an institution of higher learning to appear before the Zoning Board of Appeal each time it proposes to increase its tax-exempt holdings.

The Mayor emphasized he was not attempting to block further expansion by colleges and universities, but rather he was attempting to give the city control over such expansion.

"At a time of extreme strain on the city's principal revenue source, the property tax, that strain is further aggravated by the continuing erosion of the city's tax base," Mayor White noted. "If the property tax, which accounts for two thirds of all municipal revenues, is to remain so prominent a revenue source, then the city must have the authority to impose reasonable limits upon the disappearance of what can lawfully be taxed."

The proposed service charge would apply to such private tax-exempt institutions as colleges and universities, hospitals, charitable organizations, museums, and fraternal societies. The charge would be computed by determining the net cost to the city of services provided and prorating the cost to the institution on the basis of valuation.

If, for example, a tax-exempt institution owns property the value of which is 1 percent of the assessed valuation of all the property in the city, that institution would be required to pay 1 percent of the total cost of municipal services provided to it.

"Full taxation would be unfair and excessive," the Mayor said. "But, by the same token, full exemption no longer can be tolerated in this city, which is so destitute for revenue and land.

"If we were supplying furniture, books, or equipment to these institutions, no one would doubt our claim to payment. I believe the same reasoning applies here," he added.

In general, the Mayor said, most tax-free institutions receive the following municipal services: police, fire, traffic and parking control, public works (including snow removal), courts, and the MBTA. The city's net cost of providing these services last year was nearly $98 million—approximately 44 percent of the $233 million that had to be raised through the property tax in 1969.

The Mayor said private charitable and cultural institutions hold 15 percent of the property in Boston in marked contrast to only 6 percent in New York City. Their holdings, however, have increased 55 percent since 1964, with colleges and universities leading the way, according to Mayor White.

Following is a breakdown of private tax-exempt property in the city subject to the service charge:

Higher education, $145,350,000; hospitals, $127,300,000; other charitable and benevolent organizations, $94,505,000; veterans' organizations, $797,000; fraternal societies, $22,000; income-producing property of churches, $160,000; cemeteries, $5,657,000 — total, $395,991,000.

C of C Urges Industrial Support

A State Mortgage Guarantee Program to aid small and medium sized industries to expand and locate in Massachusetts was supported before the Joint Legislative Committee on Commerce and Labor on February 18 by the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Thomas H. Driscoll, Chamber Legislative Counsel, told the Committee that "this program recognizes the need for supporting industrial growth which has been a weak sector in the state's economy during the 1960s. The loss of industrial jobs has received widespread attention, but little remedial action has been taken to date to support the basic industries of Massachusetts.

"Such a program would anticipate periods of economic decline by providing access to needed expansion financing when it may not be generally available. It also would help the smaller municipalities where industrial mortgages are more difficult to obtain for their industrial expansion needs."

Mr. Driscoll said, "In the statement of purpose of the proposal, the benefits to be derived are positive and have been recognized by each of the other New England states who have long since established such mortgage guarantee programs. By being the exception, Massachusetts industries become more susceptible to the relocation overtures of her neighbors."

"The Chamber supports this program as yet another tool in the continuing battle to retain and expand our industrial base. Another proposal in this regard is the Chamber's bill calling for a 1 percent tax credit on manufacturing investment now before the Taxation Committee," Mr. Driscoll concluded.

New Housing Units for East Boston

Director John D. Warner announced on February 19, that the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) Board voted to construct 280 units of housing for the elderly in East Boston as part of a "spot" urban renewal project.

Mayor Kevin H. White said he will urge the Boston City Council to approve the renewal project.

"This housing will help meet an urgent need for decent homes at a reasonable cost for the elderly," Director Warner said. "Recent meetings with East Boston citizens have shown that a large majority of the community supports this development—in fact, the community has been the primary force pushing for this housing. We are also hopeful that the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development will provide funds for the development."

Director Warner said that the proposal was worked out in cooperation with the East Boston Office of Public Service and the Boston Housing Authority (BHA).

He estimated that construction of the 280 units of housing for the elderly plus a possible 20 more units of family housing would cost $4.6 million. Most of this would be paid by the federal government and the BHA, while the Commonwealth of Massachusetts might contribute an estimated $43,000.

The housing will be constructed on a nine-acre site next to Maverick square, near the new Boston 1800 Restaurant. The area is bounded by Sumner, Bremen, Lewis, and Webster streets and is currently occupied by parking lots, nine substandard industrial and commercial buildings, and one substandard residential building.

A public meeting will be held on March 19 at 2.30 P.M. to allow the community to present its views on the proposed "spot" urban renewal project. The meeting will be located at the BRA's office on the ninth floor of City Hall, and residents or representatives of residents will be given preference to speak.

15 Landlords Summoned by Rent Appeals Board

Mayor Kevin White and Thomas Sullivan, chairman of Boston's Board of Rent Appeals, announced on February 20 that 15 landlords have been summoned to appear before the Board early next month to justify rental increases that range from 6 percent to more than 37 percent.

The hearings may result in orders to the landlords to reduce rents to a level deemed "fair and reasonable" by the Board.

The hearings include complaints filed by 51 tenants — mostly families and the elderly — from every area of the city.

Mayor White said, "All landlords must notify tenants and the Board of any rental increase on forms approved by the Board. Tenants who feel their increases are unjustified may file a complaint with the Board within 14 days of notification of increase."

Any landlord who has increased rents since November 21, 1969, must notify the Board by March 10. Any tenant wishing to oppose such an increase must register a complaint with the Board by the same date, Mayor White said.

"This is designed to give tenants who have had rental increases between the effective date of the law and the operative date of the Board a chance to register complaints," the Mayor added.

"Boston is the first city in the state to enact a desperately needed rent control ordinance," Mayor White said. "Rents have skyrocketed during the last two years and low-income groups who can least afford it are being hardest hit."

"This Board will confront the problem of rental increases equitably and intelligently with regard to the viewpoint of both the landlord and the tenant," Mayor White said. "It will not impose arbitrary ceilings or rollbacks, but rather will permit reasonable increments where they are justified. Therefore, I believe this approach will permit new construction in the city and will retain the landlord's incentive to maintain the upkeep on existing properties."

Forms for landlords and tenants are available at City Hall, Information Room 250, and at all Little City Halls.

The five-member Board of Rent Appeals was created by the City Council and approved by Mayor White, November 21, 1969. The Board has the power to set rents in all buildings excluding one, two, and three family homes, public housing and luxury apartments. Luxury apartments are defined as one-bedroom apartments that rented for $185 or more on December 1, 1968, two-bedroom apartments that rented for $235 or more on December 1, 1968, and apartments containing three or more bedrooms that rented for $285 or more on December 1, 1968.

Once a complaint is registered with the Board, the landlord is ordered to provide financial information to justify the rental increase.

Kenmore Station Modernized

The Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority announced on February 20 that modernization of Kenmore Station has progressed to the point where the passageway and stairs on the Commonwealth Avenue side of the station were opened to the public on February 20. On this same day, the Beacon Street stairs and passageway were closed to the public to permit the modernization of that part of the station.

Kenmore Station is the last of 14 stations selected for major modernization in the MBTA's first-phase Station Modernization Program which will cost $9.1 million and which is federally aided by grants from the Department of Transportation.

The $717,000 contract for the modernization of Kenmore Station was awarded to the low bidder, L. H. McIsaac, Inc., of Allston, which company was also the contractor at Bowdoin, Aquarium, and Government Center Stations. The work is scheduled to be completed in the fall of this year.

If the complaint cannot be settled through voluntary negotiations with Board staff members, a hearing on the case is held by the Board. Any landlord who persists in charging rents greater than the amount determined "fair" by the Board will be subject to heavy fines, Chairman Sullivan said.

Besides Chairman Sullivan who is a past member of the Boston City Council, Board members are Joseph Corcoran, Realtor and Developer; Leo McCusker of the Herald Travelers' Production Department; Mrs. Muriel C. Kasdon, Back Bay Civic Leader; and Miss Lynn Moncreiff, who served on the city's Interim Rent Review Board. They will serve until January, 1971.

George R. Byrne

George R. Byrne, 64, of 41 Pleasant Hill avenue, Mattapan, an accountant and budget analyst for the City of Boston for 45 years, died on February 19, at Lemuel Shattuck Hospital.

Mr. Byrne, a recognized authority on city finance, had worked in several City Hall departments during his career and was an administrator in the recently created Economic Development Commission at his death.

Mr. Byrne was executive vice-president of Local 285 of the City Employees Union and a trustee for many years of the City of Boston Credit Union.

He leaves his wife, Mabel G. (Goode) Byrne; a son, Daniel J. of Boston; three daughters, Mary Byrne and Mrs. Beverly McGahey of Boston and Mrs. Carol Simmonds of Hammonsport, N.Y.; a brother, Daniel J., Jr., of West Roxbury; and three sisters, Florence L. Byrne of Jamaica Plain, Mrs. Alice Riley of Roslindale, and Mrs. Ruth McGuiggan of Brockton.

The funeral was held from the Dolan Funeral Home, 1140 Washington street, Dorchester, Monday, February 23. A Requiem High Mass was celebrated at St. Gregory's Church, Dorchester. Interment was in Mount Hope Cemetery.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT SIDEWALL CONDEMNED

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following sidewalk has been condemned by me as being unsafe and dangerous. The location follows:

237 Dorchester street, Ward 7.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1938, as amended, particularly section 116(d) thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these premises and to repair the sidewalk.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

N. Rosenfield, $1,280; Cousins Construction Company, $1,440.

N. Rosenfield, 135 Blake street, Mattapan, Mass., has submitted the lowest bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all the necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for the department in the past.

Accordingly, the general public safety so requiring, I ask your Honor's approval for awarding a contract in the sum of $1,280 to the N. Rosenfield Company, 135 Blake street, Mattapan, Mass.

Very truly yours,

RICHARD R. THUMA, JR.,
Building Commissioner.

HEALTH AND HOSPITALS DEPARTMENT CONTRACT AMENDED

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

At a meeting of the Board of Health and Hospitals held today, it was voted to amend the contract with the Board of Health and Hospitals and Bay State Service, Inc., 76 Kent street, Brookline, Mass., for furnishing and delivering as requested during the period from April 1, 1969, through March 31, 1970, such labor and materials to service and repair refrigeration equipment and/or air-conditioning equipment and its attendant appurtenances at the following locations: Boston City Hospital, 818 Harrison avenue, Boston, Mass., and Public Health Building, corner of Concord street and Harrison avenue, Boston, Mass., dated May 19, 1969, and approved by the Mayor on June 11, 1969.

Because of continuous breakdowns of old equipment involving additional expense, and converting equipment from summer to winter operation, the expenditures for services, materials, replacement parts and additional labor involved, the total cost will amount to considerably more than that upon which the estimated contract price of not to exceed $25,000 was based.

The original sum for this contract had been estimated at the Law Department as $30,000. In an attempt to effect a savings, the amount of the original contract was reduced by $5,000, so your Honor's written approval is requested to restore to the contract the sum of $5,000, and return to the original amount of $30,000.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT

SODIUM CHLORIDE

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On November 5, 1969, your Honor approved a contract with the Chemical Corporation for 20,000 tons of sodium chloride plus an additional 25 percent if required. This contract was based on public bids opened August 29, 1969.

Due to weather conditions, the full amount of the contract has been used.

Because of the immediate need for more sodium chloride, it is requested that permission be granted to dispense with advertising, and award a contract, without advertising to the Chemical Corporation for 10,000 tons of sodium chloride, @ $10.75 a ton, the same price bid on the publicly advertised bid. All terms and conditions with the exception of Article 3 be the same as in the original contract No. 01-43-537.

Total amount of contract is not to exceed $107,500, net, 30 days.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

EQUIPMENT

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of several requisitions from the Boston City Hospital for equipment for the oxygen system extension to Surgical 3, Intensive Care Unit.

Ohio Medical Products, the sole manufacturer of the equipment required for the oxygen system has submitted informal written quotations. Since this company is the only source of supply, authority is requested to dispense with publicly advertising for bids and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Ohio Medical Products.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $3,904.60, net.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT

BUILDING RAZED

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following houses have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

46 Quincy street, Ward 12.

Accordingly, in conformity with provisions of chapter 479, Acts of 1938, as amended, particularly section 116(d) thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the structure.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of houses, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Mystic. - 46 Quincy street, $2,650.

Napoli. - 46 Quincy street, $2,240.

Duane. - 46 Quincy street, $2,860.

Napoli Wrecking Company, Inc., 111 Norwell street, Dorchester, has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bids for the demolition of individual houses were not requested because it would be a practical, physical impossibility for several different wreckers to conduct efficient wrecking operations simultaneously in individual houses. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference, and each wrecker would be exposed to severe hazards not under his control, by the operations of adjacent wreckers. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the lot, and that handling the houses as one unit results in lower administrative costs to the city than would result from handling the houses as separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, in a contract price $2,000 or over the statutory limitations upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety so requiring, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding, without advertising, as required in the city charter, of a contract in the sum of $2,240 to the Napoli Wrecking Company, Inc., 111 Norwell street, Dorchester, Mass.

Very truly yours,

R. R. THUMA, JR.,
Building Commissioner.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

TABULATING MACHINES

DEAR SIR:

Permission is hereby requested to dispense with public advertising and to enter into a contract with the Univac Division of Sperry Rand Corporation, Wellesley Office Park, Wellesley, Mass., for rental of six tabulating machines at an annual cost of $8,436 for the period April 1, 1970, to March 31, 1971.

At the present time, we are using in our Fire Prevention Division two alphabetical punches, one interlocking reproducing punch, one punched card interpreter, one sorter, and one tabulator. These machines are used in connection with the annual preparation, issuance and filing of approximately 125,000 inflammable fluid and other permits by the Fire Department. Fees received for these permits during 1969 amounted to $162,293.53. In 1970, this income will be approximately $250,000.

The use of the foregoing machines has resulted in a much more efficient and faster operation in the issuance of permits than under the previous system in use in the department.

In my opinion, no advantage would accrue to the city in publicly advertising for the rental of tabulating machines inasmuch as I believe that the present rental rates are reasonable; also, the machines on rental are an essential and integral part of the punch card permit system now installed.

Very truly yours,

JAMES H. KELLY,
Fire Commissioner.

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT

INCREASED COST OF SUPPLEMENTARY SERVICES, FIELDS CORNER BRANCH LIBRARY

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

In the name and on behalf of the Board of Trustees in charge of the Library Department, under a recent vote of that Board, I respectfully request the authorization of your Honor to dispense with a public solicitation for proposals by invitation therefor published in the City Record, in entering into an agreement amending a contract executed between the City of Boston and Holmes & Edwards, Inc., of 126 State street, Boston, Mass., on May 6, 1966, providing for the preparation of the plans and specifications for, and the supervision of the construction of a new branch library at the corner of Dorchester avenue and Park street, Dorchester, so as to increase the sum allocated for expenditure under the contract for supplementary services from $12,670 to $16,985.64, representing an increase of not to exceed $4,315.64. Likewise, the outside liability of the city under the terms of the contract would be raised in the same amount, namely from $29,951 to $34,266.64.

As indicated in the original contract, the $12,670 figure represented the amount which it was then estimated it would be necessary to expend for supplementary services by the architect. In fact, however, the now known quantity of supplementary services which have, in fact, been needed, principally in the category of services by a resident engineer, exceed in volume, our anticipated needs for the same, as well as our initial estimation of the cost thereof.

Due to the professional category of the subject services and since contracts can only be amended by the original parties thereto or their successors, it is my judgment that no useful purpose would be achieved by pursuing the regular public advertising procedures in this instance.

Respectfully,

PHILIP J. MCNIFF,
Director.

RENTAL OF PREMISES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees in charge of the Library Department respectfully request that you approve the signing of a lease, without public advertising, with South End Builders, Inc., for rental of the premises located at 694 Tremont street, Boston, Mass. These premises have served as quarters for the Biblioteca Latina (Spanish-American Library) since January, 1969. The lease will be for the period April 1, 1970, through March 31, 1971. The annual rental will be $2,400, plus "additional rent" based on one-fifth of the difference between the 1969 and 1970 tax rates.

Inasmuch as it is not possible to obtain competitive bids by public advertising for this purpose, and since the total rental will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), the permission of your Honor is respectfully requested to enter into this lease without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

PHILIP J. MCNIFF,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request that you approve the signing of a lease, without public advertising, with the Woodside Realty Corporation for the rental of the premises located at 18 Barnes avenue, East Boston. These premises have served as quarters for the Orient Heights Branch Library since 1929. The lease will be for the period April 1, 1970, through March 31, 1971. The rental will be four thousand nine hundred dollars ($4,900) plus "additional rent" of eight hundred sixty dollars ($860).

For the purposes of this lease the "additional rent" referred to is defined as that sum of money by which the real estate taxes on the premises assessed for the year 1970 exceeds the 1949 real estate tax. It is further agreed that until such time as the real estate tax rate for the year 1970 is finally determined, the sum of eight hundred sixty dollars ($860) shall represent the "additional rent." Further, if the 1970 real estate tax as finally determined should be less than the 1949 real estate tax, no "additional rent" shall be payable and the lessor covenants and agrees to pay the lessee the difference.

Inasmuch as it is not possible in this instance to obtain competitive bids by public advertising and since the total rental will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), there is respectfully requested permission of your Honor to enter into this lease without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

JOHN CONNOLLY,
Associate Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request that you approve the signing of a lease, without public advertising, with Merle Ed Realty Trust for the rental of the premises located at 161 Harvard avenue,

Allston. These premises have served as quarters for the Allston Branch Library since 1939. The lease will be for the period April 1, 1970, through March 31, 1971. The annual rate will be in the sum of five thousand three hundred twenty dollars ($5,320). It is not possible to obtain competitive bidding by public advertising for this purpose.

Inasmuch as the total rental will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), there is respectfully requested permission of your Honor to enter into this lease without public advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

PHILIP J. MCNIFF,
Director.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, MARCH 9, 1970

NO. 10

"Operation Turn Off" to Attack Drug Abuse

Mayor White has announced the details of "Operation Turn Off," a massive program to combat drug addiction and featuring the nation's first public treatment center for teen-age drug addicts.

"Turn Off" will mobilize all possible resources in the Boston area to cope with the drug problem and will coordinate plans for treatment, education, and law enforcement. The program will:

1. Establish the nation's first public treatment center for teen-agers so that they can be cured without a police record. At the moment treatment facilities are extremely scarce both in Boston and throughout the state — with Boston having less than 25 beds for drug addicts.

2. Expand three out-patient clinics operated by the city and increase at two locations the methadone program for heroin addicts.

3. Require mandatory drug education for 60,000 school children in Boston public schools beginning at the seventh grade.

4. Set up Drug Action Committees in every Boston neighborhood to alert parents and youth workers to the symptoms of drug addiction and to correct way of counseling young people.

5. Provide a crackdown on pushers through a special Narcotics Unit of the Boston Police Department, which has made 112 arrests since it was formed on February 11.

"Turn Off" has been in preparation since December and its announcement follows a pledge to crack down on drug abuse which the Mayor made in his address to the City Council on January 5.

The local Drug Action Committees will be guided by the Coordinating Council on Drug Abuse, a 21-man committee of experts and community leaders established by City Council ordinance last year. The Mayor will announce his appointments to this council later this week.

"The primary features of this program, which make this unlike any other drug action program anywhere, are the emphasis on treatment for teen-agers and education in the schools," Mayor White declared. "An acute, even tragic, shortage of facilities to treat addicts generally makes it mandatory that a well-staffed medical center be set up to treat young people who are experimenting with drugs. We must try to reach young people while they are still redeemable.

"Ultimately, prevention is the answer and education is the key to prevention," Mayor White continued. "Young people, even at the junior high level, must be told forthrightly the truth about each drug — being careful not to exaggerate or sensationalize — in the hope that frank talk will encourage understanding in young people.

"Teen-age drug addiction is worsening beyond belief," he continued. "It has increased tenfold in Boston since 1966; the average age of users has dropped in that time from 27 to 21; it is clearly infiltrating the junior high level."

The Mayor also said, "Boston cannot solve this problem alone. State help, particularly in the form of regional centers similar to what Boston will provide, is desperately needed. Also, drugs beget crime and addicts freely cross community lines to obtain money to feed their habit. Thus, all communities have a common cause to unite in the fight against drugs as a means of saving our youth and improving public safety."

Featured in the program will be a residential center for teen-agers only, servicing 100 young people who wish to "Kick the habit" and who can live in the center without fear of a police record until they are cured. Out-patient therapy to sustain the addict will continue after discharge.

Teen-agers will commit themselves voluntarily for up to six months or have their parents do it for them. Treatments will be conducted in strict privacy. The Center will offer full medical and psychiatric services provided by the Department of Health and Hospitals, plus vocational counseling and high school curriculum offered by the School Department. Academic course offerings will insure that patients do not miss school and avoid becoming "drop outs" after discharge.

A building for the facility will be acquired within six weeks and open by August 1, 1970.

Heroin is so addictive that only 5 percent of addicts can ever be

Hospital, Medical and Surgical Benefits

To Whom It May Concern:

For furnishing Hospital, Medical and Surgical benefits to City of Boston and County of Suffolk employees and/or their spouses, who are sixty-five years or older and eligible for and registered for Medical Extension Coverage, for the calendar year 1970, the city publicly invited bids by advertising in the City Record under the date of October 20, 1969. In addition, sixty-four health insurance carriers, licensed to do business in the Commonwealth, were notified by letter.

As a result, the only bid that was filed was by "Massachusetts Blue Cross, Inc." and "Massachusetts Medical Service," and therefore I am awarding the contract to the above-named companies.

We have added some additional benefits over the prior contract, in effect for 1969, namely, reimbursement for drugs and nursing care. Understandably, in view of the foregoing and more particularly due to the general rising cost factor, the rates to be charged will be greater than heretofore.

The City of Boston and County of Suffolk will, under the proposed contract, bear an annual cost per person of $57.60. The employee will bear an annual per person cost of $57.24. The over-all net average monthly cost to the City of Boston and County of Suffolk is $12,000.

Advertising and other copy must, except in emergencies, be in hand at the City Record office by noon, Wednesday of each week to insure its publication in the Monday issue.

The proposed Medical Extension Coverage will supplement the "Medicare" program and afford our registered 65 and older City of Boston and County of Suffolk employees and/or their spouses broader protection.

Very truly yours,

KEVIN H. WHITE,
Mayor.

cured; real answer lies in prevention; average age of users is declining and junior high students are experimenting more and more with drugs.

To counter this problem, "Turn Off" will require that intensive drug education be made mandatory in all Boston public schools at the seventh grade level, beginning in September. Pilot program to test various teaching materials will begin in April.

In addition, Drug Action Committees will be formed in every neighborhood. These committees will be directed by the Coordinating Council on Drug Abuse in City Hall—recently enacted by ordinance in the City Council. Mayor White will announce his appointments to this 21-man council later this week.

In the area of law enforcement, the Boston Police Department has formed a special 40-man Narcotics Unit to concentrate on pushers and criminal heroin addicts. Since its inception on February 11, 112 pushers and hard core addicts have been arrested. Training of 120 police officers for a two-week period will begin March 30. Eighty officers will be from outside the City and 40 will be from Boston.

"Pushers are the insidious breeders of addiction, and every heroin user is a potential pusher because resale of heroin at higher rates is one way an addict can feed his own habit," Mayor White declared. "Pushers commit numerous crimes against society because they are spreading seeds of decay among innocent young people, rendering their victims helpless to resist the drug and leading them into a life of crime. Apprehension of pushers will be the number one goal of the Narcotics Unit."

Air Pollution

Mayor Kevin White praised the State Department of Public Health for approving Boston's regulation banning the use of high sulfur fuel in the city. The regulation which will go into effect October 1, is the first of its kind in the state.

Boston's Air Pollution Control Commission adopted the regulation last December, but needed state approval for its implementation.

"This regulation will contribute to an over-all effort to reduce the 120,000 tons of sulfur dioxides that foul Boston's air each year," Mayor White said. "It is the first definitive step taken in Massachusetts to cut down on air pollution. I urge the state to establish similar restrictions for the entire metropolitan area."

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT STORAGE OF BOOKS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request that you approve the signing of an agreement with the New England Deposit Library for the storage of books and other library materials for the period April 1, 1970, through March 31, 1971.

The New England Deposit Library building is located at 135 Western avenue, Allston. The institution was created by action of the General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the terms of Chapter 240 of the statutes of 1941. The act names the Boston Public Library as a "Participating Institution" together with the Massachusetts State Library, the Boston Athenaeum, Boston College, Boston University, Simmons College, the Massachusetts Historical Society and other libraries, for the purpose of providing storage space for books and other library materials for which there is only occasional use and for which storage space is not available in intensively used library buildings. The "Participating Institutions" share cooperatively in the low-cost housing arrangements provided by the New England Deposit Library in accordance with a schedule of rates standard for all "Participating Institutions."

The Trustees have set a limit of $9,145.50 on the amount to be expended for storage space for the period of the agreement. The Trustees have therefore.

"Voted, That there be entered into with the New England Deposit Library, 135 Western avenue, Allston, an agreement for the rental during the period April 1, 1970, through March 31, 1971, of storage space therein for books and other library materials belonging to the Boston Public Library, in accordance with the rates for storage space formally adopted by the governing board of said New England Deposit Library."

Inasmuch as the total cost of the storage space will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), there is respectfully requested permission of your Honor to enter into this agreement without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

PHILIP J. MCNIFF,
Director.

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT ALTERATIONS, BACK BAY FIRE STATION

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Pursuant to the prior authorization of the Public Facilities Commission, I hereby respectfully request for and on its behalf, your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertising in our official chronicle, the City Record, and to award a contract to Ashley, Myer-Smith, Inc., 14 Arrow street, Cambridge, Mass., to prepare a feasibility study, schematic drawings, and cost estimates for alterations to the Back Bay Fire Station at the corner of Hereford and Boylston streets, Boston, Mass., at a fixed fee of $7,000, including, not to exceed $2,000 for supplementary services and upon receipt of such authority, to execute said contract in the name and on behalf of the Commission.

After an examination and evaluation of this study, it might be determined to award a second contract, contingent upon approval of your Honor, providing for the preparation of the basic and working drawings and outline and detailed specifications and the supervision of the alterations.

The fee under the second contract would be based upon the estimated cost of the alterations and the American Institute of Architects, May 4, 1967, "Schedule of Recommended Minimum 'B' Rates," less the $5,000 fee to be paid under this contract.

Public advertising here, since an architect performs services which are distinctly professional in character, would not, in my judgment be in the best interest of the City of Boston.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

CITY OF BOSTON

Proceedings of City Council

Monday, January 5, 1970.

The members-elect of the City Council assembled in the Council Chambers, City Hall, at 10 a.m., Councillor Kerrigan, senior member-elect in the chair.

The Right Reverend Christopher P. Griffin, chaplain of the City Council, was escorted to the rostrum.

In the name of the all holy and eternal God to Whom be all glory, praise, and thanksgiving, we open this session of the City Council.

From the inexhaustible resources of Thy providence, O God, shower Thy blessings upon the members of this Council, that they may be prudent in every judgment, temperate in all speech, just and honorable in every action. Thou alone art infallible in wisdom; Thou alone invincible in strength. Share these with Thy servants as they face the high demands of their public office. Grant to them a courage that can never be shaken, a faith strong enough for the darkness, strength sufficient for every task, wisdom to meet every complexity of duty, and an inflexible loyalty to Thee and Thy holy will. For this new day, this new session, and for every unknown tomorrow, may Thy light be theirs, Thy service their joy, and Thy peace their inheritance. This we ask through Thy Son, Christ Jesus, our Lord. Amen.

The Chair appointed Councillors Langone and Saltonstall to escort his Honor the Mayor to the Chamber. The City Messenger conducted them, and the committee appointed left the chamber.

The committee appointed to escort his Honor the Mayor presently returned escorting the Mayor and his suite.

Chairman KERRIGAN — Ladies and gentlemen, I present the Mayor of Boston, the Honorable Kevin H. White.

The City Clerk called the roll of the members-elect of the School Committee, all being present, and the Mayor administered the oaths of office to the School Committeemen.

Chairman KERRIGAN — His Honor the Mayor, Kevin H. White, will now deliver his annual message.

Councillor Kerrigan, Reverend Clergy, Members of the Boston City Council and the Boston School Committee, Guests, and Fellow Citizens of Boston.

This is my third annual message -- and the first annual address delivered in this new City Hall. It is a moment that marks the midpoint of my term as Mayor, the beginning of a new City Council, and, most important of all, the start of a new decade -- a decade that the City of Boston faces with mixed feelings of hope and anxiety.

The 60's were often called the decade of the American city, for never before in our history was so much attention paid to the plight of the cities. The past ten years have been years of painful self-examination in this country -- they were years of moral upheaval, violent protest, dramatic change!

Boston, like other great metropolitan centers, was caught up in these powerful forces. We have had our share of the drama of the 60's.

Yet today, embarking on a new decade, and after thousands of ideas have been conceived, millions of words spoken, and mountains of reports compiled, the problems of our cities are still with us.

And it should surprise no one who is conscious and concerned. For the condition in which the American city finds itself today is the product of the cumulative forces of history, and it can only be changed, in any fundamental sense, by equally powerful countervailing forces.

In the past decade Boston has seen some of these changing forces at work. We are bringing about the realization of a commercial renaissance in downtown Boston, physical renewal of older neighborhoods, and a reclamation of the city's greatest natural resource -- its waterfront.

Just in the past two years, without sacrificing the momentum we have generated in physical renewal, we have made important strides to serve long-neglected human needs -- to reach out to our people and to make our urban environment more humane for those it serves.

We have made important innovations and created needed new programs to serve some of the more neglected needs of our neighborhoods -- programs such as the Little City Halls, Model Cities, Summerthing, Youth Opportunity, Council on the Aging, Office of Human Rights. We have established the Economic Development Commission, Air Pollution Commission, the Consumers Council, and, recently, a Rent Review Board.

We can take pride in these accomplishments. They are lasting and sustaining contributions that are the result of the combined efforts of the executive and the legislative branches of this city government.

And yet, balanced against this record that we both helped to shape, is the certainty that we have many formidable tasks ahead. I need not trot out the tattered catalog of urban ills; we are all too familiar with them -- the countless irritants of city living, the reasons for reaction, the frustrations, the fear, the despair among the people of a great city.

These problems have always been with us. Despite our good intentions, our dedicated efforts, our imaginative programs, they seem to defy solution.

But we must realize that none of our efforts will ever be of sustaining value unless we deal successfully with those unglamorous day-to-day functions that are the essence of administering a city government -- the maintenance of order, improving the community, and delivering services.

Those are the three basic functions that have too long been neglected in this city and other cities. We have gotten away from them, and in no small measure this has contributed to the magnitude of the problem of the American city.

I can report to you that in this past year we have taken these steps to improve the traditional operations of the city government.

For example, in the area of public safety, we have in the past twelve months assigned more than 200 additional policemen to law enforcement duties.

In the area of economic development, in the past twelve months we have enacted one of the most modern building codes in the nation.

In the area of public works, in the past twelve months we have surfaced more miles of roads and lighted more streets than in any previous years in our history.

In the area of education, we have in the past twelve months finally embarked upon a long-awaited and long-overdue program of school construction and rehabilitation.

In the area of pollution, not only did we establish an Air Pollution Control Commission, but we took the lead in Massachusetts to reduce the sulfur content in fuels burned in this city.

In the area of housing, we established the first rent control program in Boston since World War II.

I cite these accomplishments not in self-serving terms, nor in any attempt to downgrade the problems we face, but to illustrate what I consider to be the principal function of this administration -- that is, to respond to the substance of daily living in this city. If this task is less than glamorous -- if it fails to capture headlines -- it is nonetheless the most important work that we can perform.

As we enter the 1970's we must continue the attack on these fundamental problems, and I will be directing your attention in the coming year to four critical areas in particular.

First, the environment -- and I don't mean sophisticated attacks on chemical pollution, but rather I mean the basic need for cleaning our streets, our sidewalks, our parks, and our playgrounds.

Second, traffic and parking. We must take a positive stand on traffic regulation. We must provide sufficient parking spaces for residents and commuters alike, and we will inaugurate a number of experimental programs in this regard in the coming year.

Third, we must stop the erosion of our tax base and expand our tax resources through a concerted economic development program and an all-out campaign against further encroachment by tax-exempt institutions.

The fourth, and critical, area is drug abuse. Drug abuse is increasing at an alarming rate in this city. The use of every type of dangerous drug is on the rise, particularly by young people, and in every neighborhood in the city.

By coordinating existing services and expanding the city's own efforts we must stem the tide of drug abuse in Boston before it undermines the very fabric of our communities. In that regard I will present for your consideration within ninety days a new drug program with necessary supporting legislation.

These are some of the major problems we face in the coming year, and I will be presenting these programs and others designed to deal effectively with them. If you subscribe to these programs, then I ask for your support. If you do not, then I ask for your help in finding alternative solutions.

In previous years the substance of my address could have ended here.

But this year we are faced with a situation that I would be remiss not to discuss with you. Simply stated, it is the recently announced cutback in the urban renewal funds allocated by the federal government to the City of Boston.

Whether this cutback is due to politics or to poor judgment is difficult to discern now. But what is apparent is that a deliberate policy decision has been made at the federal level which can seriously jeopardize Boston's renewal program and increase the already staggering burden on the Boston taxpayer.

For too long urban renewal in Boston has emphasized rebirth of the downtown area at the expense of the neighborhoods. For too many people urban renewal has meant office buildings and parking lots.

But in the past two years we have begun to redress this imbalance by concentrating our renewal efforts on the social needs of the city's neighborhoods.

But now, after changing the emphasis from skyscrapers to schools, from government buildings to homes, we are suddenly told we cannot complete the projects already begun.

It is the neighborhoods, not downtown, that will suffer if this announced policy is carried out. Commercial revival in Boston will not suffer, largely because we have already developed alternative means of sustaining the city's commercial renewal — namely, by issuing self-financing bonds on the credit of private developers.

Therefore, private investors can be found, and, I might add, have been found, who are willing to furnish the capital needed to continue commercial renewal in Boston. But who is going to pay for new playgrounds? Who is going to pay for streets and sidewalks and street lighting? Who is going to pay for low-income housing?

We cannot respond to these desperate needs without public funds. And now Washington has announced that it is going to pull its money out. If we want to complete the neighborhood renewal that we began on the basis of federal help, we've got to do it ourselves.

The precise impact of this cutback is impossible to measure at this time. But it is clear that it would affect at least 5,000 units of badly needed housing, seven schools, including the Campus High School, eight major recreation areas, as well as community centers and possibly a medical complex.

These projects are dependent on federal funds. Without them, they may never be completed.

This is not a crisis just for Charlestown, or the Fenway, or the South End, or the South Cove — it is a crisis for the entire city. There is not a section of the city that will not suffer from the termination of federal urban renewal funds for Boston.

There is not a single section of the city that does not need to have pressure taken off its housing supply. There is not a section of the city that does not need to have pressure taken off its public facilities by the construction of new schools.

And there is not a taxpayer in Boston who does not need the fiscal relief that only adequate federal funding can provide.

We faced the 1960's with high expectations. We now face the 1970's with an ominous cloud hanging over our future, I think it important to remark on the meaning of this crisis as it bears on our conduct as public officials.

It means, first, that we must put aside personalities and provincial politics and unite to demand from Washington a complete restoration of urban renewal funds.

And, second, if we fail to restore these cuts, it means that we as public officials will have to make some extremely difficult political decisions, demanding wisdom and courage.

We will have to recognize that we cannot have everything we want — or even everything that we so badly need. We will have to reconsider what we want the future of this city to be and decide what sacrifices we are willing to make.

And so I conclude this, my third annual message to the City Council, not with optimistic prediction or self-congratulation, but with a warning and exhortation.

A warning that this city, which has come so far, whose hopes are so high, and whose future is so promising, may face bleak and uncertain times as the decade opens, unless those of us in public service — indeed, all citizens of Boston — meet this challenge with the dignity, tenacity, and courage that have distinguished the citizens of this city through its history.

Thank you.

(Applause.)

Chairman KERRIGAN — Mr. Mayor, in behalf of each member of the Council and the guests in the Chamber, thank you for your wonderful address, and I hope that God will give you the strength to carry on the work.

VOL. 62

NO. 11

Mayor Kevin White Declares "Clean Air Zone"

Mayor Kevin H. White declared a "Clean Air Zone" over the City of Boston — to be achieved through strict enforcement of new regulations that will ban or rigidly control the use of all high-pollutant fuels.

The new regulations will eliminate by at least 50 percent the dirt and dust in the air and by 80 percent the sulfur dioxide in Boston's air.

Without exception all industries, businesses, commercial installations, public facilities, and large apartment houses that now burn heavy fuel oil must switch to alternate heating methods within three to five years, Mayor White said.

Users of heavy fuel will have one option: since heavy fuel oil is a primary source of sulfur oxides and particulates that pollute the air, users may, if they choose, install effective control equipment that will trap these pollutants and prevent their emission.

An effective date of three years will give businesses, industry, utilities, and real estate owners a reasonable time to meet the new air quality standards being imposed by Boston through the city's Air Pollution Control Commission. It will also allow electric and gas utilities to generate or acquire extra supplies of natural gas, steam, and electricity that will be required to absorb the extra energy load.

Homeowners are not affected by these standards because the fuel oil they burn is a light, distillate oil that is not a serious pollution hazard.

More than 1,000 users of residual fuel will be affected by this regulation, including 800 apartment houses in the Back Bay, Fenway-Kenmore areas, Allston-Brighton, Washington Park and Dorchester, plus 320 industrial sources and 125 municipal facilities.

Briefly, the "Clean Air Zone" will be established by:

1. Virtually prohibiting the uncontrolled burning of all residual oil in Boston.

2. Requiring large burners of residual oil to control their stack emissions—or switch to another heating source. Also strict emissions controls will be required in all new construction if a new building intends to burn residual.

3. Encouraging electric utilities to generate additional steam and gas utilities to supply additional natural gas; users will have the option of choosing high-quality oils (home heating oils), gas, an oil-gas combination or electricity.

4. Converting all municipal coal-burning facilities to other systems.

5. Banning flue-fed incinerators. "There are two primary sources of air pollution in Boston: automobiles and heavy fuel oil," Mayor White said.

"By establishing a 'Clean Air Zone' we can attack one of these two sources in a reasonable and effective manner, and we can eliminate by at least 80 percent the 120,000 tons of sulfur dioxide and 50 percent of the particulates that each year foul the air we breathe in Boston.

"Within three years we can eliminate from Boston the dirty smoke that belches from smokestacks, the sulfur oxides that aggravate lung diseases, the particulates that stick in our throats and the dirt that piles up on window sills and cars. I think the benefits will be felt by everyone who enjoys a breath of fresh air."

Details of the five-point program are:

1. RESIDUAL OIL: Boston will become the first city in the nation to ban the uncontrolled burning of residual oil — the heavy industrial fuels used by industry, utilities, large commercial and public facilities, apartment buildings, etc.

More than 16 million barrels are burned each year in Boston and it is anticipated that most small and medium users will find a switch to an alternate heating system more economical than installing rigid chimney or stack controls.

2. EMISSION CONTROL: Require a few utilities and large manufacturing plants — whose high-volume, low-cost requirements may demand the continued burning of the cheaper residual oil — to install control devices.

This control equipment is eligible for a special federal income tax credit and includes particle collectors, fabric filters, electrostatic precipitators and scrubbers.

These devices significantly reduce the gases and particulates that escape from the smokestack — by burning them more efficiently during the combustion process. (Consolidated Edison in New York, for example, recently installed a $10 million precipitator to curb smoke pollution.)

Also, the Small Business Administration has told Mayor White that in guaranteeing bank loans it will give all possible consideration to firms needing financing for pollution control equipment.

3. PROVIDE ALTERNATE HEATING SYSTEMS: The Administration has held several meetings with Boston Edison, and the utility has under consideration a plan for expanding the supply of steam heat in Boston for firms that will wish to use steam as a replacement for heavy fuel. Boston Gas has indicated it will be able to obtain extra quantities of natural gas to meet the demand.

Steam heat generally is available only to customers in the downtown, Back Bay areas, and the Mayor has asked Edison to consider the feasibility of not only expanding the network within these areas but also expanding it to other sections of Boston. Steam has the advantage of low-cost maintenance that makes its use attractive to businesses wherever it is available — and it is virtually pollution-free.

Businesses also will have the option of switching to electricity, home heating oils, gas, or a combination of oil and gas.

A rate of $4 per inch of 12 lines (set solid) has been established for such advertisements as under the law must be printed in the City Record. Advertising and other copy must, except in emergencies, be in hand at the City Record office by noon, Wednesday of each week to insure its publication in the Monday issue.

4. BANNING FLUE-FED INCINERATION: (Flue-fed incinerators are found primarily in apartment houses and permit tenants to use the chimney as a chute leading to a central incinerator where tenants' rubbish is burned. These incinerators are a prime source of particulates — tiny solids or ashes that float into the atmosphere during combustion and then form an unhealthy mixture with noxious oxides.)

Boston's new Building Code that takes effect July 1 already bans flue-fed incinerators in new construction. Extending this ban to existing buildings must be phased gradually to give landlords the option of installing emission controls and to allow the city's Public Works Department to develop alternate means of disposing of the excess rubbish.

"Similar ban on flue-fed incinerators has been proposed by the state to be effective immediately, but I feel this is unreasonable," Mayor White said. "Property owners and communities both will need time to cope with this regulation.

"A 'Clean Air Zone' will accomplish a great deal in making this city a great place in which to live but, as with Pittsburgh and New York's programs, it will take time. The important point is to start now.

"The cost of a 'Clean Air Zone' cannot be measured quantitatively in dollars alone, for its value lies in the qualitative improvement it makes in our environment," Mayor White said. "Reducing sulfur oxides and emissions by half will bring the quality of our air into very acceptable standards.

"People affected must be mindful that the cost of doing business is incomparable to the value of the public's health," the Mayor declared. "I am committed to this program and will do all in my power to implement it."

A "Clean Air Zone" Task Force led by David Standley, executive director of the Air Pollution Control Commission, has been working on the program for more than two months. Details were discussed with Boston Gas, Boston Edison, and with various businessmen.

Regulations to implement the "Clean Air Zone" will be discussed at a public hearing to be held by the Boston Air Pollution Control Commission and then will be sent for approval to the State Public Health Council.

New Revenue

A new area of tax revenue has now been made available to the City.

The U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has recently revised its policy and requirements on Real Estate and Credits, as a result of which certain property not now taxed may become tax-producing.

These are areas of cleared land in Urban Renewal projects in temporary use as off-street parking lots.

The Finance Commission, in studying the H.U.D. handbook, has discovered that the City Assessor may now assess, and an "in lieu of tax" payment can be made, or applied as a credit, on certain cleared or unimproved land in urban renewal areas during its temporary usage.

The H.U.D. handbook regulation on this point reads as follows:

"A tax payment, payment in lieu of taxes, or tax credit is not eligible on a property which, on the tax levy date, was owned by the LPA and was not improved with a building. However, a tax payment, payment in lieu of taxes, or tax credit is eligible on cleared or unimproved land which is being put to a temporary use when (1) the tax payment or payment in lieu of taxes is required or permitted by State or local law or the tax credit is otherwise payable, and (2) the income to the urban renewal project during the use is equal to or greater than the amount of the tax payment, payment in lieu of taxes, or tax credit. Under no circumstances shall the payments exceed the amount of taxes which would be paid on the property if it were privately owned and assessed in the conventional manner for the community involved. Such payments will be limited to the exact period of time during which the project is receiving income from the temporary use and if a portion of a tax year is involved the payments will be made on a prorated basis."

As of February 2, 1970, the B.R.A. had approximately 500,000 square feet of land under lease which would apparently fall in this category. The locations of these parcels are as follows:

If the provisions of this regulation are taken advantage of, substantial tax revenue should be forthcoming to the City. The Finance Commission, therefore, recommends that the City, through its Commissioner of Assessing, explore this situation and proceed to take full advantage of this new provision of the Federal regulations.

Fire Damaged Station to be Renovated

The Board of Directors of the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority approved the award of a $107,400 contract to L. H. McIsaac Company, Inc., of Allston, for the replacement of the fire damaged part of Government Center Station on the Green Line.

Destroyed in the fire on June 14, 1969, were the combination newsstand and snackbar, lighting fixtures, considerable wiring, electrical conduits, illuminated signs, ventilating ducts, suspended wood fiber board acoustical ceiling complete with fascia, framing and suspension system. All but the newsstand and snackbar will be replaced by the contractor.

The station, at the time of the fire, had been reopened only a few months after extensive modernization work performed by the McIsaac firm at a cost of $580,000. It was the fifth station to be completed in the Authority's 15-station, federally aided Station Modernization Program.

Banana Hot Dogs — Food for a Hungry World?

Hunger is one of the world's crushing problems. And the ramblings of the population explosion keep increasing at a terrifying pace.

Drastic new ways to develop food have to be found fast. Millions of people are starving in underdeveloped parts of the world. But even in the richest countries such as the United States millions more are seriously undernourished. Pockets of hunger are scattered across the globe.

Someday, perhaps soon, people in hunger pockets may ward off malnutrition by eating certain crushed leaves and weeds that contain large amounts of water. According to a recent article in the Journal of the American Medical Association, these leaves and weeds are growing wild throughout much of the world.

Small experimental machines that crush the weeds and extract protein from them are already being tested. The extracted protein is processed into a food with a cheese-like texture but no taste. English biochemists working on the project suggest banana as a good flavoring. Banana-flavored hot dogs, made of weed protein not meat, may be the answer to hunger, they say, in many parts of the world.

However it is done, the problem has to be solved. Hunger and poverty are the basis for despair and disease. Tuberculosis germs, for example, thrive under conditions of inadequate diet, crowded housing conditions, and poor general health. Like hunger, the problem of TB is worldwide.

There are ways to fight hunger. And they must be found. There are also ways to treat, even prevent, TB. Check with your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association for more information.

They have the facts.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

MODEL CITY ADMINISTRATION

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

We hereby request your approval to award a contract for professional services in an amount not to exceed $50,000 to the Boston Redevelopment Authority, City Hall, Boston, Mass.

The contract is to obtain the services of the Relocation Office of the Boston Redevelopment Authority. It is requested that the contract be awarded, without advertising, because the Authority is the only organization, public or private, capable of providing the necessary volume of relocation services in a professional manner within the time such services must be obtained.

We would appreciate your approval of the award of this contract without advertising.

Respectfully yours,

PAUL PARKS,
Administrator.

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT

REHABILITATION OF J. J. WILLIAMS MUNICIPAL BUILDING

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

Pursuant to the prior authorization of the Public Facilities Commission, I hereby respectfully request for and on its behalf, your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertising in our official chronicle, the City Record, and to award a contract to Stull Associates, Inc., architects, 431 Marlborough street, Boston, Mass., to prepare the preliminary studies, basic drawings, outline specifications and construction cost estimates for constructing an elementary school and also for use in the rehabilitation (of that portion to be used for school purposes), of the J. J. Williams Municipal Building, both in the South End District of the City of Boston, at a cost for such services of not to exceed $99,180; including supplementary services costing not in excess of $3,000; and upon receipt of such authority to execute said contract in the name and on behalf of the Commission.

For your Honor's further information, it is intended that later on, a second contract is to be awarded, contingent upon subsequent approval from your Honor, providing for the preparation of the working drawings, detailed specifications and the supervision of the rehabilitation and new construction. The fee under the second contract would be determined upon the estimated rehabilitation and construction costs and the American Institute of Architects' 1951 recommended schedule of minimum "B" rates, less the $96,180 fee to be paid under the presently proposed contract with the aforementioned architectural firm.

Public advertising here, since an architect performs services which are distinctly professional in character, would not, in my judgment, be in the best interest of the City of Boston.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

ARCHITECTURAL SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

On July 16, 1969, the City of Boston entered into an unadvertised contract for architectural and engineering services with Yunits Engineering Company, Inc., of 11 Technical Park Drive, Holbrook, Mass., providing for the preparation of the plans and specifications for and the supervision of, alterations and repairs to various facilities of the City of Boston. The construction cost of the scheduled alterations and repairs as of that time was estimated to be $341,696.

However, the up-dated estimated construction cost of those repairs and alterations, as scheduled for the Police Department Headquarters building at 154 Berkeley street, Boston, Mass., alone, exceed by $14,100 the amount of $22,500, as the estimated cost for the Police Department Headquarters construction work. Therefore, in an effort to provide the bulk of the anticipated additional funding for that building, it was decided to remove from the contract that work listed for Civil Defense Unit 10 and that work listed for District 3 Police Station. Your Honor's authorization is requested to dispense with advertising in the City Record and to amend the aforesaid contract by deleting therefrom the work intended to be done at Civil Defense Unit 10, at an estimated construction cost of $6,840, and the work prescribed for District 3 Police Station, estimated to cost $3,150 and by utilizing the total thereof, $9,990, as necessary for the construction work scheduled at Police Headquarters building.

Your Honor's further authorization is likewise requested to forego public advertising and to include in the subject amendment provisions increasing the scope of the contract work so as to include within it professional services for specified alterations and repairs to three additional fire stations, namely, Engine 49, 209 Neponset Valley Parkway, Readville; Engine 50, 34A Winthrop street, Charlestown, and Engine 51, 525 Faneuil street, Boston, estimated to cost $10,500, $8,200, and $6,650, respectively, for construction. This would increase the estimated construction cost of the entire work scope from $341,696 to $367,046. The fee is to remain at 10.6 percent. The maximum authorized expenditure under the contract would increase from $39,000, including the up to $2,780 contract authorized expenditure for Supplementary Services, to $41,687, an increase of $2,687.

For the information of your Honor, this department had planned and expected to itself carry out all the professional services relating to these three fire stations, but it became impossible for us to do so and thus the foregoing request, since the need for their repair is urgent.

In my judgment, public advertising here would not be of avail to the city nor best serve its interests, since the rendering of professional services is involved.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

NEW LEASES, SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

Under a delegation of its power from the Public Facilities Commission to the Director of Public Facilities, I hereby respectfully request your Honor's written authority to dispense with public advertising in the City Record in leasing certain premises deemed necessary or convenient by the Director for School Department purposes. There is a further delegation of power from the Commission to the Director to execute such lease upon receipt of said written authority from the Mayor of Boston.

The premises to be included in the proposed lease are Rooms 520, 521, and 522 at 120 Boylston street, Boston, Mass., consisting of approximately 785 square feet of area. The term of the lease shall be for one year commencing November 1, 1969, and expiring October 31, 1970. The rent will be $3,600, payable in monthly installments of $300. The premises will be utilized as offices for the Assistant Superintendent of schools and his staff.

Since these facilities are both adequate and convenient, it is not believed that public advertising would be useful here.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

The rent will be $9,600, payable in monthly installments of $800. The premises will be utilized as offices for the Office of Instructional Resources.

CONSTRUCTION, HEALTH AND HOSPITAL FACILITIES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Pursuant to the prior authorization of the Public Facilities Commission, I hereby respectfully request for and on its behalf, your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertising in our official chronicle, the City Record, and to award a twelve-month contract to Hugh Stubbins and Associates, Inc., architects, a Massachusetts corporation, and Rex Whitaker Allen and Associates, architects, a California corporation, doing business as Joint Venturers under the name and style of Hugh Stubbins/Rex Allen Partnership, with offices at 806 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, Mass., for certain Master Planning Services in connection with the proposed construction of Health and Hospital structures and facilities at the Boston City Hospital, at a cost for such services of not to exceed $25,000 (including reimbursement for out-of-pocket expenses not in excess of $5,000) and to authorize the Director to execute such contract, in the name and on behalf of the Commission upon receipt of said written authority from the Mayor.

Public advertising here, since an architect performs services which are distinctly professional in character, would not, in my judgment, be in the best interest of the City of Boston.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

HART-DEAN REPLACEMENT SCHOOL

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Chapman and Goyette Associates, Inc., architects, have successfully carried out their contract, executed on April 9, 1969, with the City of Boston to prepare preliminary studies, basic drawings, outline specifications and construction cost estimates for constructing an elementary school (Hart-Dean Replacement School), in the South Boston District of the City of Boston.

Therefore, as authorized and directed by the Public Facilities Commission on January 13, 1970, I respectfully request, in the name and on behalf of the Commission, your Honor's written authority to dispense with public advertising in the City Record and to award a contract to Chapman and Goyette Associates, Inc., architects, 5 Lee street, Cambridge, Mass., to prepare the working drawings, detailed specifications and construction cost estimates for, and to supervise the construction of, the aforesaid elementary school at a fee not to exceed $159,540; and upon receipt of such authority to execute said contract in the name and on behalf of the Commission.

The architect's fee, taken from the A.I.A. 1951 recommended schedule of minimum "B" rates and based upon an estimated cost of construction of $3,300,000, shall be at 6.18 percent of said estimated construction cost; less the sum of $44,400 paid under the prior contract to these architects. This contract will also provide for currently estimated need for supplementary services by the aforementioned firm at an added cost of $61,300. The maximum liability of the City of Boston under this contract is $220,840.

Since the services to be performed under the proposed contract are professional in character, public advertising would be of no avail to the City of Boston.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

ARCHITECTURAL SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I respectfully request for and on behalf of the Public Facilities Commission, the written authorization of your Honor, to award a contract to Earl R. Flansburgh and Associates, Inc., architects, 119 Mt. Auburn street, Cambridge, Mass., for architectural services in the preparation of the plans and specifications for, and for supervising construction of site development for the proposed new Agassiz School in the Jamaica Plain District of the City of Boston, Mass. The estimated cost of site development construction is $200,000.

Earl R. Flansburgh and Associates, Inc., would be paid a fee for its services based on a percentage of the total site development construction work cost in accordance with the rate graph of the American Society Landscape Architects (A.S.L.A.) dated August, 1969, for the Group II Parks, "B" rate, of 7½ percent. In no event, however, will the city's total liability under this contract exceed $16,000, including $1,000 for the Supplementary Services, as the contract will stipulate.

The nature of the services to be performed here are professional in character, and the advertising for proposals therefor would be of no avail to the City of Boston. Thus, your Honor's written permission is respectfully requested to dispense with a public solicitation for bids in awarding the proposed contract to the above-named firm.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

EQUIPMENT, VARIOUS DISTRICTS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This year, as in past years, this department has awarded contracts, after open bidding, for equipment to be used within the various districts of the city to supplement the department forces and equipment in connection with keeping highways and streets open following snowstorms.

Because we received no bids for this work in some districts, we are forced to engage contractors who do not have sufficient equipment to undertake the work load required for a whole district.

I have established rates for these plows that are below the average price bid for similar equipment used in district work, and all available equipment will be hired.

Accordingly, your permission is requested to dispense with further public advertising and to award contracts to the following contractors to supply this equipment:

S. J. Tomasello Corporation, 1895 Centre street, West Roxbury.

F. J. Lepere & Sons Company, 109 Theodore Parker road, West Roxbury.

John J. Amara & Sons, 1019 Hyde Park avenue, Hyde Park.

A. J. Welch Corporation, 35 Electric avenue, Brighton.

Wales Corporation, Russell street, West Peabody.

It is understood and agreed that the work is to be performed at the following established hourly rates:

2-axle truck plowing, $20; 2-axle truck hauling, $15; 3-axle truck plowing, $25; 3-axle truck hauling, $20; large bulldozer, $30; small bulldozer, $25; front-end loader, $30; large front-end loader, $35; grader, $30; jeep, $18; spreader, $28; gradall, $30.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH F. CASAZZA,

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

No. 12

Studies of Proposed Sports Stadium

Mayor Kevin White announced that the Boston Patriots, through its board of directors, has agreed to his request to put up $250,000 for preliminary studies of the proposed sports stadium at Neponset.

"This action by the Patriots should improve chances for passage of the stadium plan by the City Council and the legislature because no public funds are involved," the Mayor said. "I have always felt, as have many others, that the Patriots should make a financial commitment towards construction of a stadium in Boston."

In approving the stadium proposal drafted by Suffolk Downs president Bill Veeck and the Boston Redevelopment Authority, Governor Sargent said the city would have to provide the funds to carry out preliminary studies on the feasibility of locating the stadium in Neponset.

In a related development, Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey indicated in a letter to the Mayor that Harvard might consider giving the Patriots a temporary home once a definite commitment had been made to provide a permanent home for the team. Dr. Pusey's letter was in answer to the Mayor's request of a week ago that Harvard reconsider temporary use of its stadium until a stadium was built.

"What the city has been able to do is surmount two serious obstacles that confronted the stadium: a source of private money to finance a feasibility study so that public funds would not be used, and a temporary home for the Patriots during construction of a stadium," the Mayor said. "The decision by the Patriots and the letter from Dr. Pusey indicate that these problems have been overcome. We have made a great deal of progress toward keeping the Patriots in Boston. Now it is up to the Council and the legislature."

The announcement by the Mayor preceded a 1 P.M. meeting with the City Council at which he outlined the financing arrangement and sought support for the stadium plan—a plan the Mayor believes is the last chance to keep the Patriots in Boston.

The stadium is part of a total and far-reaching development planned for the Neponset area. A master plan prepared by Welton Becket and Associates of New York for the 57-acre site provides for:

A 55,000 seat sports stadium;
Hotel-Motel facilities;
Multiple residential units; and Public commercial facilities.

Vote on Undeclared War Legislation

Following is a statement by Mayor Kevin H. White regarding the vote on undeclared war legislation:

I urge the members of the Legislature to vote in favor of H. 5165 sponsored by Representative James Shea, Jr. The bill specifically empowers the Attorney General to represent Massachusetts citizens contesting the legality of undeclared wars, its effect is to reaffirm the constitutional rights of all American citizens.

This bill attempts to raise one of the most fundamental questions our society faces: can a man be forced to jeopardize his life in a conflict which lacks the constitutionally required Congressional declaration of war? It deals not with merits of Vietnam, or any other specific conflict, but rather with the basic issue of how governmental power is to be controlled in a Democratic society.

I recognize that the measure also raises serious Constitutional questions about the role of the states in our federal system. But it does so in a moderate, responsible way. It neither counsels nor condones disobedience of the law. Instead, it seeks to bring the law to bear on a situation from which it has been absent. I hope it will be passed.

Boston Consumers Council

Mayor Kevin White announced that the Boston Consumers Council will oppose the New England Telephone Company's application to the State Department of Public Utilities (DPU) for a $52 million rate increase.

"The proposed rates could increase telephone bills as much as 20 percent," Mayor White said. "Clearly this is not in the best interests of Boston consumers."

"We would like any Boston citizen who has a complaint or recommendation regarding telephone service and rates to contact Sam Spencer, executive director of the Consumers Council, so that the details may be included as part of the case against the phone company's request," the Mayor said.

The Boston Consumers Council will present its views before the DPU at a series of hearings over the next three months.

Citizens with complaints are asked to put the details in writing and send them to Sam Spencer, City Hall, Boston 02201.

Signal 359, Harwick Standard Chemical, 170 Freeport street.

VI. HIGH COMMENDATIONS

At 1.24 A.M., January 27, 1970, the department responded on a still alarm to 220 Victory road, Dorchester, where upon arrival it was found that there was a man on top of a 110-foot high gas tank threatening to jump. The tank was inaccessible to the aerial ladder of Ladder Company 7 which responded to the scene with District Fire Chief Frank J. Lang of District 7, Engine Company 17, and the Rescue-Pumper Unit.

Fire Lieutenant Robert P. Foley and Fire Fighter James M. McCarthy of Ladder Company 7 ascended an exterior iron ladder leading from the ground to the top of the tank. The late Fire Lieutenant George J. Gottwald of the Rescue-Pumper Unit, and Fire Fighter John J. O'Brien of Ladder Company 23 (detailed to Engine 17) ascended an iron ladder on the other side of the tank and crossed over the top of the tank to meet Lieutenant Foley and Fire Fighter McCarthy.

At the top of the tank, they were confronted by a highly emotional and distraught man — a recently returned Vietnam veteran. The precarious positions that were assumed by these men, under extreme weather and footing conditions (there was ice on the ladders and on the tank) were such that any slip could have plunged them 110 feet to the ground. They remained in these positions for about one-half hour, during which time they pleaded with the man not to jump. After calming the man, he was placed on Lieutenant Foley's shoulders and was taken part way down the ladder and then transferred to Fire Fighter McCarthy's shoulders for the rest of the descent.

The temperature at the time of the incident was 7 degrees and a strong wind was blowing in from the ocean.

Due to the extreme risk involved in the rescue work, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend the late Fire Lieutenant George J. Gottwald, Fire Lieutenant Robert P. Foley, and Fire Fighters James M. McCarthy and John J. O'Brien, and their cases are referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

HAPPY EASTER !

Water Main Servicing South Boston

The major water main servicing South Boston is being cleansed and cement lined to improve water quality and pressure in the area, Joseph Casazza, Commissioner of Boston Public Works Department, announced.

The work is scheduled to continue until the first week in April during which time South Bostonians may occasionally experience slight discoloration in their water, according to Commissioner Casazza. "We suggest that residents allow their water to run a short time until the natural color returns, however, the discolored water is not harmful to one's health," Commissioner Casazza said.

The rehabilitation will affect the South Boston area bounded by East Berkeley street, West Fourth street, Dorchester street, East Third street, and Farragut road.
